Penn Oil Delivery Warehouse Destroyed; Damage Runs Into Thousands Southern Pacific Roadmaster Has Narrow Escape From Electrocution

FIRE which destroyed the warehouse of the Penn Oil Delivery Company at Webster and Tunnel streets on the Alameda marsh, south of the Webster street bridge, at 8 o'clock this morning, tied up traffic on the Southern Pacific and Oakland Traction Company's lines into Alameda until noon. Several thousand gallons of oil stored in tanks and cans made a spectacular blaze and caused damage amounting to $3000 in stock and buildings to the company.

Damage to the extent of $5000 was done the railroad and telephone companies, as trolley wires and service lines in the immediate vicinity were thrown into a tangle of wreckage. The origin of the fire has not been learned.

ESCAPES TERRIBLE DEATH Tom Corrigan, roadmaster of the Southern Pacific, who was on the ground shortly after the blaze gained headway, narrowly escaped a terrible death when 1200 volts of electricity in a broken trolley wire came in contact with the iron rails. Corrigan was standing a few inches from the hanging wire when suddenly a detonation and blinding flash threw him several feet away. The pyrotechnics continued for several moments.

Hundreds of passengers bound to and from San Francisco, Oakland and Alameda on the Traction Company cars and the Southern Pacific interurban lines were stranded and forced to walk to their destinations, either to other car lines or to the ferry slip.

WRECKING CREWS SENT. So quickly did the short-circuiting of the two trolley wires give warning to the respective central stations that before an alarm of fire had been sounded wrecking crews were on their way from both company headquarters. Under the direction of Superintendent W. A. Whitney of the Southern Pacific switch engines were dispatched from the roundhouse over Seventh street to the "Y" where the Fourth and Franklin street line and the Alameda line branch off, south of the estuary.

Tearing down Broadway a few moments before 8 o'clock, the tower automobiles of the traction company warned the morning crowds that something unusual in the way of a breakdown was on hand. Gongs sounded and pedestrians made hurried retreat to the sidewalks when smoking fire engines and automobile truck apparatus took up the chase. The black column of smoke could be plainly seen from all parts of the city. Over

DAWSON, Y. T., Sept. 10.—The international boundary survey party, which has been marking the line between Alaska and the Yukon Territory, arrived here yesterday, having completed the task of surveying the one hundred and forty-second meridian from the Pacific to the Arctic Ocean. At the north end of the line a bronze monument was placed just out of the reach of the highest waves and small monuments were set every three miles along the line. Geologists made a complete geological survey. Topographical work and the blazing of the side right of way was also completed the entire distance.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 10.—A prodigious disaster ensuing, according to native estimates, between 30,000 and 40,000 deaths occurred in Chekiang province on August 29. It was a combination of a typhoon, an enormous rainfall and an abnormal tide, which swelled the Wenchow river, flooding a great area. The flood occurred with amazing suddenness. The cities of Wenchow, Chuchow and Tsin-Tien were largely ruined, and Kowee was obliterated. Numbers of small towns and villages were demolished. Among the uncountable victims 1000 were washed out into the sea. It is stated that 10,000 persons perished in Tsin-Tien alone. The loss to property and life is incalculable.

APPEAL ENTERED IN BONNER CASE

Court Accused of Bias Against Convicted Slayer of 17-
Year-Old Girl.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—A formal notice of appeal was filed in the superior court this morning in the case of Charles Bonner, the 19-year-old boy under sentence of life imprisonment for slaying 17-year-old Bernice Lillian Goddard.

The papers were filed by Attorney Elliot Epstein, representing William Hoff Cook. The document charges Judge Dunne with bias and prejudice from the time the date was set up to the date of pronouncing sentence. Misconduct on the part of the court and the district attorney and errors in law are also given as grounds for appeal, and it is claimed that the verdict was contrary to the law and the evidence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Building and Loan Commissioner George Walker, charged with contempt of court by Secretary William A. Corbin, of the Contingent Building and Loan Association, appeared before United States Judge De Haven this morning for trial.

Corbin's affidavit furnished the only substantial evidence and it was corroborated by the officials of the postoffice. The complaint charges that the corporation's mail was withheld at the instance of Walker and in defiance of the restraining order issued by Judge De Haven.

Counsel on both sides, including Attorney General Harrison for the commissioner, and Attorneys McNab and Henshall for Corbin, argued and the matter was submitted to the court for decision.

PLEASANTON PREPARING FOR BIG COUNTY FAIR

Supervisors Asked to Appropriate $3000 for Exhibit Premiums

Asking that a $3000 appropriation in aid of a big county fair, to be held at Pleasanton, October 23 to 27, Attorney Abe Leach appeared before the board of supervisors this morning in behalf of the Alameda County Fair Association, which has been incorporated for $10,000.

Leach told the board that plans for the fair had already reached a stage that assured the success of the undertaking.

The main pavilion at Pleasanton is now well under way, and the sheep, cattle and hog pens were commenced today.

The fair is to be held on the racetrack property, where Robert McKenzie is now tearing down all the old buildings and constructing parks and $50,000 improvements, with a view to making a new racing grounds that will be second to none in the United States.

Wednesday, October 23, the first day of the fair, will be official day, when it is expected that all county and municipal officers will be in attendance. The railroad will grant special rates from all points in Central California.

VALUABLE PREMIUMS.

Premiums to the value of $4000 will be offered and an effort made to secure many of the stock exhibits and attractions that will be seen at the State Fair at Sacramento.

A request for the appropriation was endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce and the County Exposition Committee.

Some of the best harness horses in the State are expected to compete in the program of races that is being arranged.

There will be varied programs of entertainment each evening.

E. E. Hall and W. J. Dakin of Pleasanton appeared with Leach in support of the request for the appropriation.

Frank A. Leach, representing the Exposition Committee, also spoke in behalf of the appropriation, declaring that whatever permanent exhibits were secured at the county fair would be preserved for 1915 and that he thought the county fair would prove a valuable medium for meeting the producers of the county and paying the way for a representative showing in 1915.

The request was referred to the committee of the whole and the office of the district attorney for decision at the next meeting.

During the old days of the district, the state appropriated $5000 for the use of Alameda county, and it is expected that if the county fair is re-established the appropriation will be restored.

MAY INVITE COUNTIES.

Supervisor W. B. Bridge who recently visited the San Diego Exposition site, advised the board to invite Santa Clara and Contra Costa counties to join Alameda county in the erection of a joint building at San Diego for a big display there in 1915 as well as in San Francisco.

The question was referred to the Alameda County Exposition Commission.

W. J. Dawson Davis, representing the board at some length, urged that Alameda county take advantage of two years of anti-exposition publicity which San Diego was prepared to give.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

J. M. Page was granted a thirty-day leave of absence, with permission to leave the state.

STATE TAX RATE.

Notice was received from the chairman of the State Board of Equalization that the state tax in aid of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition had been fixed at four cents and four mills on each $100 of taxable property.

ENDORSE TAX REPORT.

The Galindo Improvement Club, by letter, endorsed the report of the Tax Association on the County Infirmary and County Hospital and urged that immediate action be taken.

ing to the proximity of the oil station to the lumber yards and shipping on the south side of the estuary, there was considerable fear felt among those having interests in that vicinity.

MANY COMPANIES RESPOND.

Half a dozen engine companies of Oakland responded to the alarm and stood in waiting at the bridge in case of emergency. The Southern Pacific fire tug Ajax was also on the scene in remarkably short time, ready to protect the shipping and lumber yards.

Close by the oil company warehouses was a carpet-cleaning establishment, which was also totally destroyed with several hundred dollars' loss. The John Breuner warehouses, westward, escaped the flames though the corrugated iron sides of the low building were considerably scorched.

All that saved the structure was the fact that a narrow space of ground lay between the fire and the warehouse, the spread of the flames in that direction. The Alameda fire department handled the conflagration with great efficiency and the blaze was under control in less than an hour.

TANGLE OF WIRES.

R. T. Guppy, superintendent of electric traction, took charge of the repair work on the Southern Pacific lines and Superintendent J. P. Potter of the traction company directed the removal of debris from the street car right-of-way. Such a tangle were the power lines in, however, that it required several hours' work by a large force of men to get them straightened out and in safe working order again.

Both trolley systems were burnt out at the power stations when the lines were short-circuited at the fire location. The heavy 12000 volts carried on the interurban system of the Southern Pacific fell across the 500 volt wires of the traction company. Heavy fuse breaks were thrown over and instantly the system went out of commission.

The fire was discovered shortly before 8 o'clock by men working in the vicinity and an alarm turned in at once. Owing to the nature of the material in the warehouse the whole building was almost instantly aflame and workmen were forced to abandon their efforts to stay the spread of the fire within the structure.

the man had probably left the house by that time.

HACKETT IN SEARCH.

Hackett, half-strangled by the tight grip of his wife's hand on his mouth, awakened and was told of the burglary. Hackett wanted to rush to the front door but was restrained by his wife, and went first to his daughter's room to find her sleeping soundly. Securing a carving knife in the kitchen Hackett went through the house to find the front door wide open. A man stood at the corner of Santa Clara avenue and Bau street and boarded the last car from Oakland, as Hackett made his way to the street.

Police Officer William Fries had been watching the man standing at the corner for some time as the man appeared nervous and fidgety. Just as Fries had planned to interview the man the car came along and the man boarded it. Fries then moved out into the light and Hackett went across the street to tell him of the robbery.

Started by the appearance of Hackett with a huge carving knife, Fries drew his revolver for use if necessary. The police officer has a good description of the man who boarded the car and says he believes he has a speaking acquaintance with him.

At police headquarters it was stated this morning that the man at the corner was scarcely the burglar and was more apt to be a belated visitor at some house in the neighborhood who was taking the last car for home.

SLIGHT CLEWS FOUND.

Detective William Wamuth was detailed on the case and found that the burglar had left little in the way of a clue. The detective found plenty of finger prints and photographed them, but believes that the burglar wore gloves which would make the photographing of prints of no value in determining identity of an accused person. The burglar left no footprints, as a fence runs immediately alongside the house and the burglar evidently mounted this fence at the street line and walked along the rail to a shed window, supporting himself by pressing his gloved hands against the side of the house. He tried one or two other windows before effecting an entrance.

Both Hackett and his wife noticed a man closely scanning the entire block of houses yesterday noon. They spoke about it and Mrs. Hackett laughingly asserted that some house would be robbed last night. The talk so worried the daughter that last night she said she was afraid to go to bed and took the pet dog into her room for company.

BOY SHOT TO DEATH BY HIS COMPANION

ROUND MOUNTAIN, Cal., Sept. 10.—James Cusick, 18 years old, shot and killed John Noble, 12 years old, yesterday, near the "Powers" ranch. The full charges of the revolver were fired at the boy and shot entered the body of the boy and he died almost instantly. The shooting was accidental.

The dead boy was the son of Charles Noble, machinist at the lumber company, and the boy who held the gun when it was accidentally discharged is the son of John Cusick, superintendent of the mill.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—A burglar entered the home of Mrs. F. Mandelbaum, 239 Cherry street, through a bathroom window at midnight and obtained a jade ring and $4 in cash.

AWAIT REBEL ATTACK.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 10.—The anticipated rebel attack on Naco, Sonora, opposite Naco, Arizona, did not materialize last night, but it was learned today that a strong force of rebels looted the San Pedro ranch, eight miles south of the Arizona line yesterday.

Threatening to attack the Mexican town of Naco, guarded by only 50 federal soldiers, federal troops from Cananea, 40 miles to the south are believed to be hurrying to reinforce Naco.

With federal reinforcement at Cananea and Naco, Arizona American mining districts below Naco and Douglas are in little fear of a rebel attack at present.

strong opposition to intervention by the United States in Mexico. He said Mexico was able to handle the situation.

REBELS DRIVEN OFF.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Mexican rebels under General Salazar, who began life yesterday a concentrated attack upon the town of Ojinaga, opposite Presidio, Texas, were driven off by the federalists and are now retreating southwesterly in the direction of San Bernardino, according to a dispatch received at the War Department from General F. Z. Steever at El Paso.

In the battle resulting from the attack of the rebels, the federal forces occupying the city lost four men killed and a number of horses. The loss sustained by the rebel force, if any, as not ascertained. The mayor of Ojinaga crossed the river after the skirmish and reported to Captain Adams, in charge of the American post that the federal force was capable of holding the town against the further rebel attacks.

WAS NOT AMERICAN.

General Steever reported that the supposed American shot in the hip late yesterday by a stray bullet which crossed the border into the town of Presidio, Texas, was in fact a Mexican citizen.

The activity of Salazar in his repeated raids across the border, and his threatened reprisal on Americans gave grave concern to the American officials. His withdrawal has simplified matters but the American post will keep close watch on his movements. In his retreat from Ojinaga he has 250 men and three field guns.

Company I of the signal corps has arrived at Presidio from D. A. Russell Post.

DECRY INTERVENTION.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 10.—Government officials continue to regard as absurd the reports that the United States government is seriously considering intervention in Mexico. It was declared at the national palace today that conditions are steadily growing better. In the meantime every effort will be made, it was announced, to protect foreigners and their property. Recent developments in the south do not appear to include any serious encounters. Rebels are reported to be operating in Puebla, Morelos and the state of Mexico.

A new rebel movement of which few details have been obtained has been reported from Mexico state of Coahuila. Several bands of revolutionists have appeared along the line of the International railway and there is some reason for believing that their objective point is the border town of C. P. Diaz.

OROZCO OFFICIAL KILLED.

Librado Galvis, one of Orozco's officers, is reported to have been killed in the attack on San Miguel Mezquital last week and his body is said to be still hanging from the balcony of the municipal building there. Manuel Benicour, an American citizen, according to the story brought here today, was fatally wounded by rebels when they attacked Atlix, near Tlalco, Guerrero, last Saturday. Benicour is said to have been a native of C. P. Diaz.

A heavy consignment of ammunition and 160 soldiers left the capital last night for Monterey. A new rebel movement has been reported at Ramon, state of Nuevo Leon, near Monterrey.

EXPECT LONG STAY.

FORT RILEY, Kan., Sept. 10.—The soldiers of the Thirteenth Cavalry expect to spend considerable time along the Mexican border. This is shown by the amount of clothing they are purchasing. The Junction City stores have been crowded with cavalrymen all day.

The soldiers will take all of their clothing and personal effects with them, another sign that their stay on the border is to be a long one.

STIMSON NOT WORRYING.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Undeterred by the seriousness of the situation in Mexico and the trouble in Nicaragua, Secretary of War William H. Taft is not worried by the fact that California for a stay of at least three weeks.

The secretary telegraphed Major General Wood, chief of staff of the army, that he was having assemble National Park and proposed to bury himself in the mountain fastnesses.

Permission for 1200 Mexican federal troops to pass through the United States from El Paso into Chihuahua and Sonora to attack the fleeing rebels, was granted to the Mexican government by the State Department today. The arms of the troops will be carried as baggage. When the movement is to begin is not known.

DEPARTURE DELAYED.

FORT RILEY, Kansas, Sept. 10.—Because of delay in obtaining transportation facilities the Thirteenth U. S. Cavalry ordered to start for the Mexican border tomorrow, probably will not enter before Friday or Saturday, officers said today.

WOMEN RESCUED.

LORDSBURG, N. M., Sept. 10.—Mrs. J. T. Muir and Mrs. S. J. Mitchell residing on ranches south of here near the Mexican line were brought here today by automobiles by residents who went to the women's homes last night in response to appeals for assistance. The women, whose husbands are absent, telephoned to Lordsburg that armed Mexicans had entered the ranch. When the Lordsburg men arrived the Mexicans had disappeared. It is believed the Mexicans were rebel deserters.

$772,350 WORTH OF CITY BONDS TO BE ON SALE

Oakland Council Passes a Resolution Authorizing Disposal of Securities

On the recommendation of City Auditor George Gross the city will dispose of city hall and waterfront improvement bonds amounting to $772,350 October 1. A resolution authorizing City Clerk Frank R. Thompson to advertise the sale of bonds and to notify bond purchasing firms was passed by the city council this morning. It is believed that at the time the bond market will be good and that a good premium will be paid on the bonds as Oakland offerings in the market are always sought by the large concerns of the East who handle municipal bonds.

City Auditor Gross explained the situation of the bond funds to the city council this morning. Gross stated that the bonds are being held back until the money is actually needed and in this manner bond interest is saved to the city upon the unsold bonds. December 31 of this year a block of bonds will fall due for redemption, and as these have not been sold they will be disposed of December 31 and redeemed without interest the following day by special agreement with some bank. It is planned to sell city hall and waterfront bonds as follows: October 1, $772,350; December 31, $12,000; and March 15, 1913, $481,000.

"In the school and auditorium bonds," said Gross, "we have sold $1,082,900, most of which has been either used to purchase sites or is now available in the fund. The balance, amounting to about $2,000,000, remains unsold in the hands of the city, and on this we have not as yet had to pay any interest. We plan to sell $583,000 in school and auditorium bonds December 14 or thereabout and figure that this will carry on the building operations in the school department, with moneys we have presently on hand, to June 30, 1913, the commencement of the new fiscal year.

DRESS SCHOOL GIRL ON $3.48

Such Is Dictum of Designer Who Says it Can be Done Easily.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—That $3.48 was enough to place in the costume of any high school girl, was the assertion of Miss Caroline Woods, costume designer for the Los Angeles schools. Parents who put more money than this amount into dresses for their daughters, according to Miss Woods, were not only wasting their money, but teaching the girls to be extravagant.

To prove her assertion, Miss Woods designed a costume for one of the manual arts high school girls. It cost just $3.48. Here is the "recipe": Five yards of storm serge at 49 cents a yard, $2.45.

One lace collar and yoke, 30 cents. Three-quarters yard black silk, 35 cents.

Eight silk buttons, 25 cents. One spool silk thread, 5 cents. One card hooks and eyes, 5 cents. Total $3.48.

GETS PAVEMENT WITHOUT PAY

Company Loses Suit for Work as Well as Costs of Court Hearing.

By withdrawing his name from a paving contract with the Barber Asphalt Company, which concern was doing some work at Thirty-seventh and Grove streets, J. Hartzberg saved $13, the cost of the paving in front of his property, and, in addition to losing that amount, the company lost $35 costs, incurred when the case was appealed to the Superior court from the Justice court. Superior Judge Waste today decided the case against the company.

When the work was begun, some time ago, Hartzberg, with other neighbors, signed a contract for its completion at the cost of $48. Later, he thought the price too high and withdrew. He refused to sign another contract and later the company reduced its price 40 per cent, and went on with Hartzberg's job without consulting him. Now he has a nice new pavement which cost the company three times as much as it did him.

TURKEY AND ITALY DISCUSS PEACE

Preliminaries Said to Have Been Settled Between Warring Nations.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Italian fleet has been sighted in the Aegean Sea, according to a dispatch received in London today by a news agency.

VIENNA, Sept. 10.—According to the Constantinople correspondent of the Neue Freie Presse, peace preliminaries have been signed between Italy and Turkey, but will be kept secret until parliament has been elected. No formal armistice will be concluded, but Italy will refrain from further attacks on the Turkish coasts and islands, and Turkey will permit the gradual return of the expelled Italians.

A semi-official statement issued at Rome last Saturday characterized as absolutely unfounded the reports that an agreement had been reached respecting peace between Italy and Turkey.

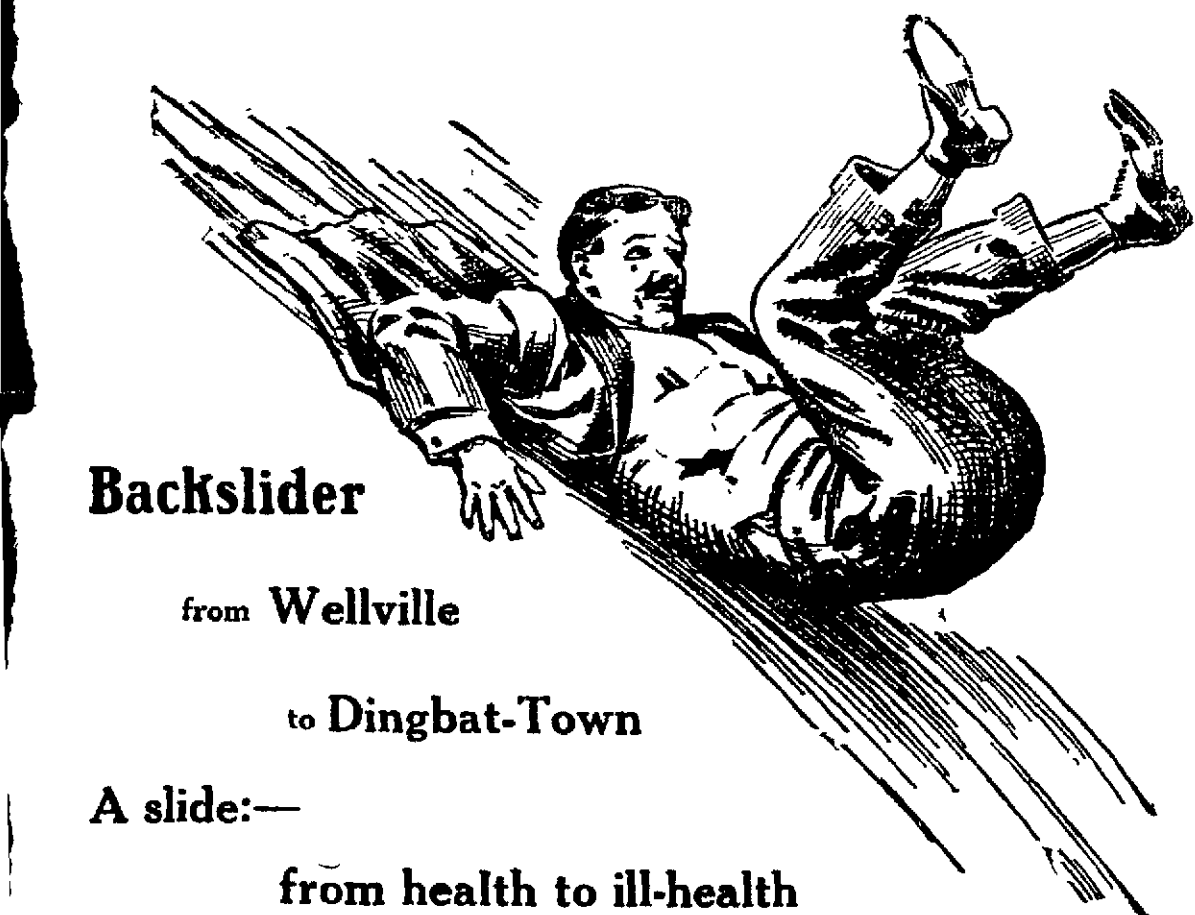

JOHNSON INVADERS NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Republican Strongholds Hear Bull Moose Arguments of T. R.'s Mate.

FREEDPORT, Ill., Sept. 10.—Governor Johnson made a flying trip today into what are generally regarded as Republican strongholds in Northern Illinois, urging the support of the Progressive party in the coming election.

"We are working for that program of social and industrial justice which will give equal rights to all," he said here. "Our party would have the government devote a part of its time, at least, to the conservation of its humans. By this plan we do not mean to destroy business, but we do not wish the government to devote its entire time to swindling fortunes. A government which devotes all of its time to the development of business is worse than no government."

Mr. Raymond Robbins of Chicago, settlement worker and suffragist, rode in Governor Johnson's private car and passed out suffrage literature.

Backslider

from Wellville

to Dingbat-Town

A slide:—

from health to ill-health

A great many people have tried the slide, who didn't know exactly what they would get in "Dingbat-Town."

The coffee drinker is quite certain to get some kind of a "bat." It may be in stomach, liver, heart, bowels, eyes, kidneys or some other organ, for the bad effects of the caffeine in coffee, locate in a variety of different organs in different people.

Many persons who knew this some time ago quit coffee and commenced Postum.

Then, because they found trouble in having Postum prepared suitably at hotels and elsewhere, they gave it up and went back to coffee, thinking, "Now I am well and can stand it."

So they became backsliders and when they slid into "Dingbat-Town," symptoms of the old troubles began to show again, they found it difficult to return to Wellville.

Now comes

as one sure way to get back.

Instant Postum is in powder form—made from regular Postum and contains the same nourishing ingredients—you simply stir a level teaspoonful into a cup of hot water and instantly have a perfect cup of Postum; it has a delicious mellow flavor and is free from the coffee drug, Caffeine.

It can be made anywhere that hot water can be obtained; in hotels, on the train, in the office—its high, rich quality is constantly uniform.

Tins holding enough for about 100 cups are sold for 50 cents by grocers. Smaller tins at 30 cents, make about 50 cups.

Ordinary coffee costs about twice as much.

A two-cent stamp to cover postage will carry to you a five-cup sample tin free.

Stench Arising From Refuse Is Overpowering Near Broadway Wharf.

Since Saturday last a large barge loaded with garbage has been moored in the vicinity of the Broadway wharf. Why the contractor has neglected to tow the barge to the dumping grounds is a question which is greatly interesting those whose business compels them to remain in the vicinity of the wharf. The stench arising from the barge is overpowering and liable to spread disease.

The last survivor of the original Harmony Society died six years ago. The claimants say the property should have reverted when the last survivor died to the heirs of the founders from whose original investments the property grew.

M. D'S. TO REFORM U. S. CRIMINALS

Meeting of State Prison Wardens Consider Medical Treatment.

MATTEAWAN, N. Y., Sept. 10.—A meeting of the state prison wardens, called here today for the purpose of considering medical treatment for prisoners as soon as they are received, may result in sweeping penal reforms, if the warden testimony to be presented on the medical testimony to be presented. It is the first official step taken in this state along the lines proposed by the American Prison Reform Association at its meeting in Omaha.

The proposed reforms are based on observations of criminals in different penal institutions of the country, by which it is shown that most crimes committed are the direct result of incompetency arising from physical as well as mental defects in the criminal.

The remedy, to consider which this meeting is called, is the medical inspection of all prisoners and the correction of all such crimes including ailments while the subjects are in custody, so that on being set at liberty the causes of criminality will no longer be present to lead to a recurrence. This was the plan adopted by the American Prison Reform Association and upon which some of the Middle Western states have already acted.

FORMER TRACK MAN IS DECLARED SANE

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—W. Newton Bennington, former race track plunger and gambler, and millionaire, was declared in his right mind yesterday by Justice Kelbie in the Brooklyn Supreme Court. Up to three months ago Bennington was an inmate of the Middletown Asylum for the Insane, under treatment for paresis.

August Belmont and other business men who had known Bennington in his days as a race horse owner, were interested last spring to the extent of taking steps to help him obtain his release from the asylum.

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!
A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol or injurious ingredients. It is an extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the "Ladies' Hospital and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y."

STEFANSSON FINDS LONG-LOST RACE

Descendants of Scandinavian Colonists Discovered in North.

SEATTLE, Sept. 10.—Vilhjalmur Stefansson after spending more than four years in Arctic exploration returned to Seattle yesterday by steamer from Nome, Alaska, and told of his possible discovery of the descendents of the Scandinavian colonists of Greenland who were last heard of in 1412 and who, when trade with Greenland was resumed in the seventeenth century, had entirely disappeared. Stefansson and his companion, Dr. M. Anderson of Fort Collins, Iowa, made a valuable zoological and ethnological collection which is now on the steam whaler Beledene with Dr. Anderson and will arrive in San Francisco the first week in November on the way to the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

Stefansson will leave for New York tonight. Stefansson reports Dr. Anderson in perfect health. The Beledene is now whaling off Wrangell island, Siberia. During more than four years Stefansson and Anderson were together only nine months, covering more ground by separating.

Stefansson and Anderson went to the Arctic in 1908 by way of Winnipeg, Edmonton and the Mackenzie river to its mouth. They were bound for Coronation gulf, a region marked in red on Canadian maps, "uninhabited," and which they had been warned to avoid. Stefansson spent the first winter at the mouth of Colville river, Alaska, the second at Cape Perry, the third on Coronation gulf and Victoria Land, the fourth at Cape Parry.

On leaving the Arctic he made a leisurely journey along with a dog team from Cape Parry to Point Barrow, 1000 miles, visiting all the Eskimo settlements along the coast. He left Cape Parry March 22 and reached Point Barrow June 14. The expedition made its headquarters for collecting Bailey island, a resort where Eskimo hunters and the Mackenzie river, and here the materials gathered were placed on the Beledene. It will not be unpacked until it arrives at the big New York museum.

The feature of the collection from a popular standpoint is the skins, "kulls" and leg bones of thirteen barren-ground and grizzly bears, ready for mounting. Only one barren-ground is in any museum. It is supposed that bears of two species are in the collection.

Of the so-called white Eskimos of Coronation gulf, Stefansson said: "They were taller than the Greenland Eskimo, but not so tall as the Alaska Eskimo. They spoke Eskimo though I thought I detected some Norse words, and they lived in the typical Eskimo way. I visited thirteen groups of these people who numbered probably 3000 and saw 1000 of them. Ten of the groups or tribes had never come in contact with whites and had not even a tradition of them. Two tribes had traditions of the St. John Franklin expedition. An old man in one tribe had seen Richardson in 1845 and an old man in another tribe had seen Collinson in 1853. The thirteenth tribe had been visited by me.

"Between the country of the blonde Eskimos and the Mackenzie is a narrow strip of country 700 miles wide, which is never crossed by Eskimos. The Eskimos west of this strip have no knowledge of Eskimos to the east. These to the east know there are Western Eskimos, but believe their savage cannibals, Muskox polar bear and seals are abundant, and the blonde Eskimos live well. Many of them have eyes as blue as my own, and very blonde eyebrows are the rule.

"A great many of the men have sandy or red hair, but they have no tradition of their ancestry. On Victoria island a number of stone houses but the blonde Eskimos shun them, saying they were built by spirits who inhabited the country before men came.

"I was unable to gather statistics of blue eyes for when the blue-eyed person found I was seeking them they avoided me, not understanding what I wished. However, I took cephalic measurements of a large number of males, and I found that the facial index was the same as that of the Eskimo-Scandinavian half-breed of Greenland, and not typically Eskimo.

"I made note of the tribe visited by Collinson in 1853. He wrote that it numbered 200 people. There are now 250, and all are in good health. On the other hand, Dr. Richardson, in 1845, found 200 Eskimos between the Mackenzie river and Bailey island. The Eskimos have been in contact with whites, and only forty persons survive, and these are diseased."

Stefansson ascribes the success of his expedition to the fact that he took no food supplies, but went into the country with his rifle. He lived as the Eskimos did, much of the time among them. Eskimo women sewed his garments, but otherwise he needed no aid from Eskimos.

WOMAN SOUGHT IN BOUCHER CASE

The Dead Newspaperman Had Been in Company of Fair Foreigner.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Charles C. Boucher, a widely known New York newspaper man who was found dead in the Hotel Gravesend yesterday, had been visiting in London for several weeks. Accompanied by a French woman, and registered under his own name, "and wife," Boucher stopped first at the Ritz Hotel. The woman disappeared several days ago. She had previously telegraphed to Paris for funds to get home as Boucher had left her penniless at the Ritz.

Boucher had been drinking heavily for some days before his death. He had attached a small rubber hose to the gas jet and put the other end in his mouth. He had been engaged to come to London to assist in the local office of the New York Herald.

Boucher was one of the best reporters in New York, and had friends in nearly every city in the United States. He was president of the New York Reporters' Association of New York.

He had been a ship news reporter of the New York Evening World for the last six years. A month ago he met James Gordon Bennett of the New York Herald aboard an incoming vessel, and Bennett offered him a position in the Paris office of the New York Herald. His wife, who left three weeks ago, was whom he married two years ago, was booked to sail today for Gravesend.

Boucher was born in San Francisco and had traveled all over the world. He was a sailor on a whaling vessel for years and was shipwrecked in the Arctic sea.

MONKEY TO BE RAISED LIKE HUMAN BEING

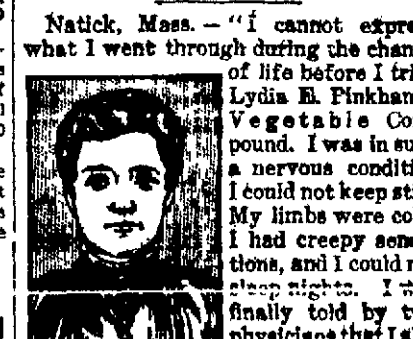

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10.—Dr. John B. Watson, director of the psychological laboratory at the Johns Hopkins University, has adopted a unique method of testing the Darwinian theory. Seven weeks ago a bright little monkey was born at the institution.

The parents of the simian, which are very intelligent, had been carefully trained by scientists and the offspring of such parents is believed to afford an opportunity of determining how nearly like a human being he can be raised. When ready for schooling every effort will be put forth to develop his mind along the lines that will fairly tax his mental capacity to assimilate human knowledge.

MRS. GREATOR'S AWFUL EXPERIENCE

During Change of Life—How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—Mrs. MARION SWART GREATOR, No. 1 Jefferson St., Natick, Mass.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

WM. REDMOND TO VISIT AMERICA

Home Rule Practically Won, Declares Brother of Famous Irish Leader.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—Michael J. Ryan of this city, president of the United Irish League of America, has received a letter from John E. Redmond, the Irish home rule leader, saying that his brother William Redmond would sail from Ireland Thursday to attend the national convention of the league, to be held in Philadelphia, the latter part of this month and declaring that so far as Great Britain is concerned, the battle for home rule has been won.

"Our only embarrassment," he says, "is in the attitude taken up by a section of the people of Ulster. The home rule bill will pass through the House of Commons before the end of this year but I take it for granted that it will be immediately rejected by the House of Lords. This means that we have practically two years struggle yet before us. During that time we will need all the material and moral support which is possible from our fellow countrymen abroad."

ACTOR DE ANGELIS IN FEAR OF THREATS

YONKERS, N. Y., Sept. 10.—On complaint of Jefferson de Angelis, the actor, City Judge Beall has issued a summons for Joseph Saboy, a Hungarian laborer, to appear to answer a charge of threatening to kill "Mik" and Mrs. de Angelis by blowing up their residence with a bomb.

De Angelis told the Judge that Saboy had worked about his premises as a handy man for five weeks. Last Thursday he wanted to quit. When Mrs. de Angelis told him that he would have to stay until she found some one to take his place and that she would not pay him the small balance due on his wages he became angry. "I will kill you," she declares Saboy said, "before tomorrow night I'll blow up the place, and not one of you will be left alive."

REPUBLICAN VICTORY IN MAINE

Democratic Governor and Bourbons in General Are Overthrown

Joint Vote of the Legislature Sufficient to Elect Taft Man to Senate

PORTLAND, Maine, Sept. 10—The political overthrow in Maine's state election in which the Republicans won back the governorship, won three of the congressmen and a sufficient majority on the joint ballot in the legislature to secure the election of a United States senator, became more apparent today with revised and additional returns.

William T. Haines of Waterville, Republican, was elected governor by a plurality of 5557 over Governor Frederick W. Plaisted, Democratic candidate. The vote, with 28 votes missing in latest returns, was:

VOTE OF TWO YEARS AGO.
Two years ago the vote for governor was Bert M. Fernald, Republican, 64,672; F. W. Plaisted, Democrat, 75,425. The missing twenty-eight votes were cast for Fernald, 761; for Plaisted, 761. The vote for the Republican candidate and 840 for the Democratic leader. Congressman Ashe C. Hind, First district, and Congressman Frank E. Guernsey, Fourth district, Republicans, were re-elected by increased majorities, and Forest Goodwin, Republican, supplanted Congressman Samuel W. Gould, Democrat, Third district. The Democratic candidate in the Second district, Congressman D. J. McGillivray, was re-elected.

The new legislature will stand on a joint ballot 94 Republicans and 78 Democrats with ten districts yet to report. The state senate will be made up of 22 Republicans and 8 Democrats, with one district missing. The house will be composed of 72 Republicans and 70 Democrats, with nine districts missing.

SUFFICIENT TO ELECT.
This majority will be sufficient to elect former Congressman Burleigh of Augusta as United States senator in place of Obadiah Gardner, who was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator P. Frye, Republican.

Political observers were in some doubt as to the effect of the Republican victory and the attitude of the Progressive leaders regarding the national election in November. All of the Progressive leaders were actively identified with the Republican party in yesterday's election.

TAFT IS PLEASED.
BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 10.—President Taft was greatly pleased to hear of the Republican success in Maine that he forgot his lame ankle and went to play golf. He was especially cheerful when he learned that the Maine legislature was a publican on joint ballot, assuring his party of another vote in the United States senate.

Although the President had no statement to make about the Maine result, his friends here were so confident. According to their view the result will serve to keep in line many Republicans who were wavering toward the Progressives. It will be an example, they say, to the doubtful ones of what can be accomplished when a solid front is presented to the Democrats.

COLORADO PRIMARY.
DENVER, Sept. 10.—Weather conditions appeared favorable for a large vote in Colorado's first state-wide primary today. Early reports from all parts of the state indicate a heavy vote. Under the primary election law in this state, each voter was handed both a Democratic and Republican ballot, with instructions to vote straight one or the other, then return unmarked to the judges the ballot not wanted. This caused some confusion early in the day.

While women are candidates for many state and county offices, Mrs. Katherine Williamson is the only woman candidate for a place in the National House of Representatives. She is opposing Edward T. Taylor (incumbent), also William C. Clayton and Edward Keating for the Democratic nomination for Congressman-at-large. For State Superintendent of Public Instruction there are four women candidates for the Democratic nomination and one woman candidate on the Republican ticket. Mrs. C. C. Bradford, Democrat, is the incumbent.

BOURBON CANDIDATES.
Democratic candidates for United States Senator (long term) are Governor John A. Shafroth, former Governor Alva A. Adams and Thomas J. O'Donnell. For the unexpired term, former Governor C. S. Thomas has no opposition. Republican candidates for the United States Senate (long term) are C. C. Dawson and M. V. Vincent.

For the unexpired term, Charles V. Waters and James H. Brown are the candidates. Democratic candidates for the gubernatorial nomination are: Joseph H. Mauphi, Elias M. Atwood and Thomas J. Tynan.

Republican candidates are: Philip B. Stewart, representing the Progressive wing of the Republican party and C. G. Parks of the regular Republican forces.

GAYNOR DECLINES TO GIVE ANSWERS

"I Am Engaged in Purifying Government," He Cries Angrily.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Amid a burst of hand clapping Wm. J. Gaynor, mayor of New York, took the witness chair at the City Hall this afternoon and was sworn in by Alderman Curran to testify before the Senate committee appointed to investigate graft in the police department.

"We are anxious to know," said Buckner, counsel for the committee, "how the mayor keeps in touch with conditions in the police department."

"I take you any question from the commissioner," the mayor replied. "Sometimes he talks with me."

"There is no special way in which you keep advised of conditions?"

"No, except what I hear through the commissioner."

"Oh, yes," said the mayor wearily, "I have hands and legs and ears and feel."

"But you have no way of learning conditions except through the commissioner?"

"Oh, take it that way if you want to," replied the mayor. "I came here to help the committee and give you facts," he explained testily. "I shall withdraw as a witness if you do not ask me pertinent questions."

"I decline to answer," the mayor cried, when asked if "his system was defective."

"Ask me about facts and I will answer," the mayor broke into a current of words against newspapers and sensationalism.

HAS NO OPINION.
"Would you be surprised to know that burglary insurance rates in New York have jumped 35 per cent?" he was asked.

"I have no opinion in the matter. But I take your word for it."

"You said the appointments to the police force are made according to law, without regard to Murphy or anybody else?"

"I was engaged in purifying the government here long before you ever came on earth," cried the mayor as Buckner kept up the cross fire of questions. "I have destroyed the graft in the police department and doggedly the mayor refused to make direct replies."

"You can scandalize me," Mayor Gaynor finally shouted vehemently. "I have got a reputation you can't scandalize."

The crowd clapped vigorously at this.

The Lesson of Maine.

Maine reiterates the lesson of Vermont. United we stand, divided we fall. It is not Democratic strength Republicans have to fear, but division in their own ranks. In Maine the Republicans kept together and retrieved the defeat of two years ago, showing that the Democratic wave is at the ebb, and that the Republicans only need to present a united front to maintain their ascendancy.

But if the Republicans split in two factions now that victory has been won, how can they expect to carry the Presidential election? Division in the Republican ranks will encourage the Bourbons to put forth fresh efforts. Divide the enemy and fight him in detail was one of Napoleon's maxims. Will Republicans divide so that the Democrats can fight them in detail?

The result in Maine will not carry its usual message of hope and cheer to Republicans in other States. The host that has just overthrown the Bourbons is now to divide into hostile armies, arrayed against each other as well as the common foe. With a scant majority of some five or six thousand, a division, however unequal, will give the Democrats the electoral ticket since a plurality elects. With a single State ticket in the field, the Republicans won. With two electoral tickets in the field, the chances of either would hardly be worth counting. The Maine returns show, as did those from Vermont, that the Bourbons are standing together—there is no defection from the Democratic ranks to Roosevelt.

Therefore the logic of the Roosevelt movement is that it has no chance of winning, but does gravely threaten Republican supremacy in the nation. It has been demonstrated beyond cavil that the third party is in all essentials a Republican bolt. All efforts to induce Democrats to join in have failed, and hence Roosevelt must draw all his strength from the Republican party. He has bolted the Republican party because it would not nominate him for President.

Roosevelt is trying to defeat and punish it for refusing to accept him as its standard-bearer in violation of the precedent against a third term set by Washington more than a century ago. His attacks on the principles and leaders of the Republican party are mere exhibitions of spleen—a fact that the nation is rapidly coming to appreciate. Should he win, which is utterly out of the question, we should have a one-man party instead of the party of the people—a dictatorship instead of a republic.

It is the duty of Republicans to resist not merely the attempt to destroy their party, but the attempt to Mexicanize the government. They must therefore rally in opposition to Bourbon reaction on the one hand and despotism on the other. A Democratic victory will not destroy the structure of our government nor endanger the constitution. A victory for Roosevelt would establish one-man power backed by the great trust combinations. We should have the static condition which enabled Louis Napoleon to overthrow the republic of 1848 and re-establish the empire created by his ambitious uncle.

Republicans have only to unite in support of Taft and Sherman to avert both the evils of Democratic rule and the peril of a dictatorship.

When will Democrats learn the folly of sending free trade orators from the South to canvass Maine on the eve of a Presidential election? In the campaign just closed the Republicans let the imported orators from the South talk tariff till their throats were sore. There was no need to answer free trade arguments in Maine. The people of the Pine Tree State have no use for free trade, and they naturally resent men coming from the South to play schoolmaster among them. For more than thirty years the Democrats have been trying to carry Maine in September by having Southern free trade orators stump the State. Failure has always resulted. Once in a great while Maine goes Democratic in an off-year, when local issues control, but the moment the Bourbons begin to flaunt the free trade flag the Maine voters flock back to the banner of Republicanism and protection.

The Issue Rests With the Women.

The defeat of the woman suffrage amendment in Ohio appears to be due to the lack of earnest, vigorous support on the part of the women. We have all along contended that whenever a considerable majority of the women really want the ballot and make a resolute demand for it the franchise will not be denied them.

But a minority of women cannot get the political disabilities under which their sex labors removed, and for a very simple reason. They cannot exert the influence and persuasion where influence and persuasion count for the most—in the homes of the mass of voters. Whenever each home has its suffrage missionaries working among those near and dear to them, the result will not be in doubt. Women must first convince themselves that they want the ballot before they can or will exert any appreciable influence on men to grant it to them.

Women talking to men from the platform or through the press cannot convince the majority of males that women either want or should have the ballot. The opportunity must begin at home. There is where it is effective and convincing. When a general appeal is made there it is sure to win. Men can resist the personal importunity of women, particularly if the women be near and dear to them.

Women can have the ballot whenever they ask for it in a way that convinces their men folk that they really want it. Failure to do this is what defeated the suffrage amendment in Ohio. A large number of women were openly opposed to it, and a majority of them took no interest in the fight. The demand for enfranchisement came from a minority of women, who relied upon argument to do what only persuasion alone can accomplish. The failure to apply persuasion in the domestic circle was fatal to the amendment, for the reason that it alone will convince the men that the demand is real and earnest.

We believe this states the case generally. The enfranchisement of women depends upon the women. Whenever a considerable majority of them make a concerted demand for the ballot they will get it. Hence the suffragists should expend their missionary efforts among their own sex. Get the women after their husbands, fathers, brothers, sons and sweethearts and the battle is won.

The new machine for measuring fatigue will be very useful in listening to spasms of fervid oratory before the November settlement.

Large bodies move slowly, but if the United States decides to move into Mexico a few thousand dusky generalissimos will have to be pretty spry to get out of the way.

SHOULD OLD ACQUAINTANCE BE FORGOT?

—INDIANAPOLIS NEWS.

The Terrible Toll of Lust.

In the year of our Lord, 1912, forty thousand men and women are making an "easy" living every year, selling, buying and living on the earnings of young girl victims of the white slave traffic. From fifteen to twenty thousand girls between the ages of 13 and 25 are each year sacrificed on the altar of lust.

The figures are given out by Stanley W. Finch, for twenty years an attorney and official of the Department of Justice at Washington. In cold black figures no other law of God or man is broken more frequently, notoriously and with less regard to the consequences, yet no crime can have a more awful result or a more lasting effect on the morals of the nation.

The white slaver is burning a scarlet letter even on the bosom of the Goddess of Liberty, for Mr. Finch's figures show that New York's dens of infamy are recruited largely from pure emigrant girls who come to this country seeking the nation's adoption and protection, and instead are raped of their honor by the hyenas of the redlight district.

A national conference might well be called to devise ways and means for preaching the gospel of purity in every city and hamlet in the country, and securing, not new laws, but new methods of enforcing the present ones.

This might have some effect, but the root of the evil lies in the neglect of the children, the failure of mothers and fathers to instill into their offspring the old standards of morality, modesty, chivalry, true manhood and true womanhood. The home atmosphere and the life of the parents must in turn conform to the ideas they would inculcate in their children.

The miserable wretches of the underworld are sowing the seed for future generations of their ilk. Their influence is undeniable. What safeguard have we for our children and our children's children unless we cultivate a national morality that will be not only sufficient to counteract the white slaver, but to overcome?

A new military uprising is reported from China. Jealousy of the state of affairs in Mexico is not given as the cause, but, perhaps, is such.

Stanford male thespians plan to burlesque chorus girls in coming college productions. A brutal remark might be made about acting natural, et cetera.

John D. Rockefeller, reached at Pocantico Hills by the long arm of the Black Hand, announces that he is not afraid. "Cleveland suits me very well just now," he adds. Which goes to prove that distance lends safety and enchantment.

DEPRECIATED GOLD COINS

Considering the fact—which we all learned in the ever-memorable 16 to 1 campaign—that money is nothing but a symbol of value, minted or printed by the government for the convenience of the citizens, it seems strange that when it comes to redeeming the symbols, that is, issuing new ones for the old, the government should discriminate.

For instance, if you have a mutilated or defaced or partly burned dollar bill, even if you can show only a trifle more than half of it, the government will give you for it a nice, clean, crisp bill and no questions asked or deductions made for the missing part.

If, however, you chance to have a gold coin which by passing from hand to hand and pocket to pocket has lost in weight more than one-half of 1 per cent, the government will deduct four cents for every one of the grains that have been rubbed away. The only way to get rid of such a lean and emaciated coin without loss is to pass it off on some unsuspecting person who doesn't know the difference.

That is what happens on the Pacific Coast, where the yellow metal circulates and where naturally lightweight gold coins are in abundance. They never reach the sub-treasuries, however, but are passed along at their face value from bank to bank and person to person, slipping by, half surreptitiously perhaps, like a plugged coin, until they fall into the hands of some luckless man or woman who is unable to get rid of them.

But why should the loss fall on the last person who happens to hold the symbol and not on the government that issues it? That is one of the inequities that might be corrected if the government would abolish its arbitrary limit of one-half of 1 per cent loss for abrasion, or else do its utmost to keep only coins of standard value in circulation.—Boston Globe.

WISE PHILADELPHIA SPOOK

It is a relief to find a level-headed spook. Most of the ghosts of our acquaintance have been more than a trifle inclined to the inconsequential. They were uniformly bad advisors, and while they knew a lot about our past and our future most of what they knew wasn't true. But then we never met any spooks without an introduction by a medium, perhaps if we could have come into more direct contact the results would have been different.

It is a Philadelphia spook to whom we turn from all these personal disappointments and gloom. Mrs. Caroline Herman, a widow, 74 years old and wealthy, had a notion to marry again. All the preparations for these autumnal nuptials had been made, when suddenly the widow was assailed by a doubt. But let her tell the story:

"I was alone in the parlor," she says, "looking at the picture of my dead husband. It was such a noble man that I was sure he would return and advise me whether I was doing right in marrying again. As a looked at his picture hanging there I started to weep and asked, 'Jacob, am I doing the proper thing?' Suddenly I felt as though I was being advised not to marry. The wishes of my dead husband are sacred to me, and now I am convinced he does not want me to remarry. I will not do so."

The good sense of Jacob, as compared with that of the average spook, is worthy of all commendation. He and the widow were particularly fortunate, perhaps, in not communicating through a medium. We have noticed that those trained spirits who are in partnership with professional mediums have a particular penchant for advising elderly widows of widowers of wealth to do just the thing calculated to put that wealth into more general circulation. If spooks must advise elderly ladies, elderly ladies would do well, in our estimation, to imitate Mrs. Caroline Herman and pick ghosts they can trust.—New York Sun.

We have generally noticed that the woman who talks the loudest about her starved soul always wants the thickest piece of steak.

NATIONAL UNIVERSITY

Uncle Sam has in Washington vast archives of historical documents, great libraries of invaluable books, magnificent equipment for scientific research, on all of which he spends some $5,000,000 a year for maintenance and operation.

It has been suggested that the best use is not being made of this material, these treasures of knowledge and channels of inquiry. Of course, they are used, but not to the measure of their importance or availability. The proposal is that a national university, endowed by the government, should be established at Washington, with this accumulation of intellectual wealth as a nucleus.

The proposal is not a new one. Before the accumulation had begun it was made by George Washington. He is said to have left a bequest of $25,000 for the purpose. The money was to remain intact in interest-bearing securities, increasing automatically, until the university became an accomplished fact. The university is still a dream, and Washington's bequest, growing through the years under compound interest, represents today the astounding aggregate of $5,000,000. That is a nice little endowment fund. The only trouble is the money has disappeared. Nobody knows where it went to, or who got it.

It has been suggested that Congress should make good the loss of the first President's bequest, but Congress has paid little heed to the suggestion. The plan of a national university has been urged by no less than ten occupants of the White House, and ardent advocates from every vocation have been among its advocates. At one time the Senate had a special committee assigned to the project. But the plan remains unrealized. It has given birth to volumes of discussion, but has been singularly sterile in the matter of deeds.

It is alleged that this excellent idea, like many another, has been stifled by vested interests. Other educational institutions are said to have exercised the influence that has kept it in the realm of theory.

However that may be, an attempt is to be made to revive it. At the coming convention of the National Educational Association in Chicago four eminent speakers are on the program to deal with various phases of the big idea for which George Washington left a part of his fortune. Three of these addresses will be academic, but the fourth, by Dr. W. C. Thompson of the State University of Ohio is on the practical topic: "Ways and Means; the Next Steps." This looks like action.

Outside of a few more or less selfish interests there seems to be no practical unanimity among educators on the desirability of such an institution. The field for it seems to exist. The material for its usefulness is abundant. We can see no good reason why the dream of Washington should not be made true.—Louisville Herald.

TASMANIAN NIAGARA

A big hydro-electric engineering scheme now being constructed in the middle of Tasmania will revolutionize the industrial life of that island. The area of Tasmania is a little over 26,000 square miles, and its present population is 191,000. Situated in the middle of the island at an altitude of 3400 feet is the Great Lake, a storage reservoir provided by nature herself.

The area of this sheet of water is 41 of Tasmania's square miles. The outlet of this lake is the River Shannon. At this outlet a new company, which has recently been formed, is constructing a weir to regulate the flow. The water will then be diverted from the Shannon into a lagoon, from which steel pipes will be laid so as to create an effective fall of water for over 1000 feet vertical.

Nature's disposition in this region allows of the mechanical contrivance of engineers in this manner both simply and cheaply. It is calculated that in the power-house to be erected at the foot of this fall electricity of the value of 85,000 horsepower can be generated all the year round, sufficient to work the developing industries of the whole island.

Hobart (the capital) in the South and Launceston in the north, will be supplied from it, and there will be ample power to work the important mineral fields of the west coast as well as copper mines of Mount Lyell, the tin mines of Bischoff, and the silver mines of Zeehan.—London Globe.

MAKING JILL'S LIFE HAPPIER

Several speakers at the annual conference of the Illinois Federation for Country Life Progress told of good results from efforts to improve social life in certain counties of Illinois. Churches and public schools form natural centers for such work; granges and county organizations also are made use of, to the end of making conditions more pleasant for both adults and young people. Tea parties and athletic games, musical entertainments and moving picture shows were features described with approval.

This work should be extended as much as possible. Much of the unattractiveness of country life, to many persons, lies in its lack of opportunities for recreation and social intercourse. All work and no play makes a dull boy of Jack and a discontented girl of Jill, in either city or country, and it is certain that the recreative features of city life have been a strong magnet in attracting young folk from the farms. There are opportunities for the development of healthful, innocent and valuable amusements in the country. Wise parents and social leaders will find and take advantage of them. Wholesome life comes from a judicious mingling of toil and recreation, and all of us need to come occasionally into contact with our fellow being for other purpose than business.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Easy to Get Relief From Indigestion

Your stomach should digest the food you eat, without the aid of any artificial digestive. If it will not do that, then you are continually subject to dyspepsia, heartburn, headache and constipation.

Instead of taking digestive medicines, take steps to get your stomach and intestines again in a healthy, natural condition. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge will do this for you if you will take it regularly. It is not a digester of foods, but it will restore your stomach and intestines so that they will attend to their natural functions, digesting what you eat and giving strength to the body.

For more than eighty years thousands of men and women who have suffered the pains caused by dyspepsia and indigestion, have been praising this Tonic as the only remedy which brought them permanent relief. As the Tonic acts directly upon the stomach and intestines, it is a natural appetizer and strength builder.

Many forms of supposed indigestion are the result of intestinal parasites, for which Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is unsurpassed. Inlet upon Jayne's; accept no other. Sold by druggists everywhere. Dr. D. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The notoriety gained by automobile No. 41,313, the gray touring car used by the murderers of Herman Rosenthal, has been capitalized and the automobile is now being used as a sight-seeing machine. LONDON, September 10.—"It tussent matter by my own just and just as our ancestors did."

So said Andie Carnegie of old and his decision was upheld by the British association for the Advancement of Science at Dundee. The speaker was no other than Donaldson, a member of Andrew's university, who delivered an address to the effect that if he could have his spell books would be publicly burnt and teachers of spelling banished and children's books thrown away.

"Nothing like our spelling exists anywhere," he said. "The Dutch, the French and the Germans have forgotten spelling and we are terribly behind other nations. It is all the fault of the newspapers, because they would not adopt it."

Some Sensible Advice on Womanly Beauty

Healthy hair adds much to womanly beauty, and it is such an easy matter to have a glorious mass of lovely hair that the dull, "straw" kind is inexcusable. A teaspoonful canthrox dissolved in a cup of hot water removes every particle of dirt and dandruff, and after rinsing, the hair dries quickly and evenly. Canthrox shampoos promote hair-health and insure a wealth of lustrous, even-colored young-looking hair.

Remove tan and freckles and keep the skin clear, velvety and attractive for the social season by daily applying a lotion prepared by stirring two teaspoonfuls of glycerine into one-half pint of water (or hot water) then adding four ounces perfume. This lotion is used instead of face powder and though invisible, tones the skin to a beautiful natural color while erasing tan, sunburn, freckles, surface blemishes and the oily, shiny appearance of the face, so often due to deterioration.

CURRENCY SYSTEM UN SOUND, SAYS FINANCIER

Bankers Hear Address on Reformation of Nation's Financial Laws.

DISCUSSES PROPOSED RESERVE ASSOCIATION

Present Conditions Fraught With Menace, Declares R. W. Bonyng.

DETROIT, Sept. 10.—Now is the time for critics of the proposed National Reserve Association, recommended by the National Monetary Commission, to come forward and point out what they believe to be defects in the plan, in the opinion of Robert W. Bonyng, a member of the commission, who addressed the American Bankers' Association in convention here today. Bonyng's address was on "Banking and Currency Reform." He spoke, in part, as follows:

"Our banking and currency system is universally recognized as thoroughly unsound. All the political parties have declared in their platforms of this year in favor of its reformation, but no specific remedial legislation has been proposed by any. It is perhaps better that they should not have done so. The problem is essentially an economic and business question.

"The defects in the existing system that must be remedied no matter which party is charged with the responsibility of framing the legislation are: Our unsound treatment of bank reserves, the rigidity of our entire credit system and the lack of co-operation between our independent banks.

"Our present reserve system restricts the lending power of banks at times when reserves should be freely used and credit liberally extended to solvent business men and thereby intensifies, if it does not actually produce, panics. Our scattered reserves are wholly ineffective for use in emergencies. Our bank notes do not fluctuate in response to business needs. Even the commercial paper held by the banks is not a truly liquid asset with us. Each separate bank in times of stress is concerned only in strengthening its reserves. The sole method available for that purpose is the calling of loans. The portion of the reserves held in the vaults of our thousands of independent banks is for all practical purposes a dead asset. Indeed, rigidity stamps itself upon our entire credit organization.

"We have only local banks. They furnish banking facilities to their own communities. They are indispensable. But it must be obvious that these strictly local institutions can not look after or provide for the general credit conditions of the country at large."

NATIONAL FEDERATION.
"As it was found necessary to organize the federal government to guard our national interests and to legislate on those subjects affecting us as a nation, so we must have some national federation of the banks for national financial purposes. The independence of the units must be absolutely preserved. The powers given to the federation of the banks must be strictly limited to those that are national in character. The form of organization must be such as to insure its operation in the interests of and as a support to all legitimate business and must be wholly free from sectional, political or selfish financial control.

"When thus organized it must be empowered to act as custodian for the reserves of the banks, to redistribute the short-time commercial paper, to provide a safe and sound bank note currency that will automatically adjust itself to the constant changes in business requirements, to act as the government's fiscal agent, and to represent us in all national and all international financial affairs.

ELEMENT OF ELASTICITY.
"The experience of the world proves that a currency issued by a government or by government-owned institution, always lacks the essential element of elasticity. Its amount is determined by the government's needs and fixed by statutory provisions which cannot be speedily altered to meet changing conditions. The government issues money, and may as well admit the fact, regulate the public, regulate the agency or agencies which may, in accordance with certain general principles that it establishes, issue credit redeemable in lawful money. It is for these reasons that the issuance of bank note currency should be entrusted to the federation of banks, under regulations to be prescribed by statute and strict government supervision through its own officers.

"With a co-operation of the necessary powers to protect our general credit conditions, banking panics and money stringencies would no longer plague us. Each independent bank would know that it could safely issue at any price, such assistance as might be required to any solvent business man, because it would know that if the occasion arose, it could redeem the commercial paper of its solvent customer at a branch of the federation of banks. Thus the benefits of such an organization would reach every man, no matter in what business or calling he might be engaged.

SAFE CUSTODIAN.
"We would have a safe custodian for the reserves of the banks. They would be mobilized and could be put to effective use whenever needed. The amount of currency would be absolutely measured and determined by business requirements. The banks would, through co-operation, be enabled to utilize our enormous banking power and wealth.

"A man to accomplish these purposes has been found in the country for nearly a year. It is contained in the unanimous report made to Congress by the National Monetary Commission, recommending the establishment of the National Reserve Association.

"Some objections have been urged to the plan of the proposed organization and the machinery provided for its operation. If there are defects in the plan, they should be specifically pointed out. It is for these reasons that the plan of the proposed organization should be submitted to the people. Mere denunciation of proposed measures without offering some substitute is not at all helpful. It is believed that the more the plan of the Monetary Commission is studied and analyzed the more it will grow in favor. But whether it does or not, the problem of monetary reform remains with us. A solution for it must be found. Shall we say that we are unequal to the task? Shall it be said that the powerful nation, which has led the nations of the earth in making a device, a banking system suited to its needs?

"We will be unworthy of our inheritance."

BERKELEY PLANS TO OWN MARKET

Municipal Project Voted on at Meeting of the City Council.

BERKELEY, Sept. 10.—The city council at its meeting this morning voted in favor of establishing a municipal market where the citizens of Berkeley can purchase produce at a low price. It will be one of the first of its kind to be established in the country. The council also voted to have the market located in the city of Berkeley, and to have it under the management of the city attorney, who was instructed to inform them what legal steps were to be taken toward its establishment.

The market project was first spoken of by the Berkeley branch of the Socialist party. Frank O'Sell, another prominent member of the local branch, has spent many months investigating the market, and has been successful in establishing it. They have asked the city council to appropriate $10,000 toward the establishment of the market. It is believed that the people will be asked to vote on the proposition at a special bond election.

No further action will be taken by the city until a report of the city attorney is submitted. This will be within another week. Mayor J. S. Pitts is located in Berkeley. He stated today that it will fill the want of people of all classes.

POET READS TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

Joaquin Miller Recites "The Fortunate Isles" at Exercises.

Joaquin Miller, poet of the Sierras, was the leading attraction on the program yesterday afternoon when he read one of his own poems in the presence of the teachers and pupils of the Franklin school in celebration of Admission day.

In response to the reading, the school honored the poet for making the journey from "The Heights" by unveiling a large portrait of him in the new "hall of fame" just dedicated. They also gave an entertainment, which consisted of folk dancing and out of door gymnastics that gladdened the aged man's heart and made him feel amply paid for making the trip over the dusty roads from his mountain home.

The following is the poem, which is entitled "The Fortunate Isles":

You sail and you seek the fortunate isles. The old Greek isles of the yellow bird's song. Then sail straight through the water miles, Straight on, and you can not go wrong. If you sail straight on.

Nay, not to the left; nay, not to the right, Be straight on till the isles are in sight. These fortunate isles where the yellow birds sing And life lies gift with a golden ring.

And what are the names of these fortunate isles? Why, duty and love and a large content. These are the names of the fortunate isles.

After brightening during his visit with the young people, and although somewhat feeble from his illness of a year, also seemed to enter into the spirit of the gathering. Mrs. Miller accompanied her husband.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. A. M. Beebe, vice-president of the association, and Mrs. F. F. Porter, chairman. School Director F. B. Cook made the speech of acceptance of the Miller picture.

Plans for a new club house on the lot at the corner of Elm and Derby streets were discussed. Stephen E. Kieffer, husband of the president of the club, will be in charge of the new building. This was followed by a musical program.

The board of directors held a meeting at the home of the president on Wednesday, September 11, at 10 a. m. The entire board of directors, and the committees will serve for the month of September.

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, and soothes the nervous system of brain, glands, and muscles. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery of the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. FAREWELL IS SAID TO REV. F. W. LLOYD

The Pastor of the Fruitvale Methodist Church Is Honored.

FRUITVALE, Sept. 10.—A farewell reception was tendered the Rev. Francis W. Lloyd of the local Methodist church, recently when 40 members of the church gathered in the parsonage to tell of their appreciation of Rev. Lloyd. It was with great sorrow that the local Methodists heard of the move of Rev. Lloyd to retire for one year or possibly longer, and although much influence was brought to bear the pastor was firm in his determination to go into retirement.

Rev. Lloyd has been pastor of the Fruitvale Methodist church for the past four years and during that time has accomplished much in the upbuilding of his congregation. N. B. Wilson, manager of the Fred Finch Orphanage, acted as chairman over the reception. He spoke of the great results accomplished by the retiring pastor and hoped that Dr. Lloyd would soon be able again to take charge of the local flock.

Dr. Lloyd and the Rev. J. Rhoda of the Upper Fruitvale Presbyterian church also lauded Rev. Lloyd. Rev. Lloyd responded to his well wishers with humorous remarks after which a program made up of local talent was given.

Those taking part in the program were Mrs. S. Zorb, a speaker of some note about the bay counties, who recited a short poem, and Miss E. Morey, who rendered to renders of the local choir other vocal and musical selections filled out an enjoyable program.

All communications to the editor of THE TRIBUNE intended for publication must bear the names and addresses of the writers.

METROPOLIS WILL BE HERE.

EDITORIAL TRIBUNE—Your editorial loyalty to the east bay cities, in opposing the class legislation being sought by our penultimate neighbors, is most admirable; but it seems to me that you fail to anticipate one possible sequence to their very silly and short-sighted action.

It seems to me that it will drive this group of cities in north Alameda county into a consolidation of their own, and sheer defense of their threatened integrity; thereby anticipating their inevitable destiny by a number of precious years.

Alameda, Albany, Emeryville, Berkeley, Oakland, Piedmont and San Leandro are now one city for nearly every practical purpose, industrial, commercial and financial.

It is a logical detail to establish for such a city its own harmonious and unified administration.

I have advocated this in the last seven years, with no selfish interest of my own in concern, but largely in the interests of the multitude imprisoned in the cage, each of them held in bondage by the involuntary need of each to stay where the crowd has habit.

Add to these 40,000 slaves of the community ticket, each of whom would infinitely rather jump a street car or a bicycle within a few minutes of his job, did not he and all the others insist on following a forgotten ballplayer who

NICARAGUA QUIET REBELLION FAILS

Restoration of Traffic on Railroad Line Results in Peace.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The Nicaraguan revolution is on the wane, according to advices from Rear Admiral Southern. The admiral reported that the American landing forces, now control the railroad and the uprising had dwindled to the proportions of "the usual Central American revolution."

The road will be in operation soon from Corinto to Granada, the southern terminus where there has been much suffering among the starved people.

To push the work, Col. J. H. Pendleton has been placed in command of the sailors from the cruisers Colorado and California with 500 marines and has occupied Leon as headquarters.

BADGE FAILS TO HYPNOTIZE CREW

Police Interferes in Mixup on Street Car; Arm Is Broken.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Handcuffed by the presence of his wife and babe, Policeman John L. McCausland of the Richmond station was unable to make an arrest yesterday, following a mix-up on a Masonic-avenue car. In consequence, he today carries his arm in a sling, it having been broken by a blow from a controller.

McCausland was sitting beside his wife and she in turn sat next to a woman who stooped down and picked up a purse. "I never noticed that I dropped it," she said quietly, turning to Mrs. McCausland.

At that juncture, another woman entered and demanded the pocket-book.

McCausland, being a regular patrolman, saw duty and proceeded to do it, in order to prevent the women fighting tooth and nail while the car was going at a rapid rate.

DECIDES TO TAKE IT.

"I will take charge of the purse," he decided, and was placing it in his pocket, when the conductor, H. Fleming, demanded it. The officer slowed his car and told the women that they could call for it at the property clerk's office. The woman who had seized it from the first one consented quickly, but the conductor was not satisfied, and, after consulting with the motorman, F. E. Lattan, returned with him and demanded the pocket-book.

McCausland refused to turn it over, and the controller bar was raised. The policeman drew his revolver and contemplated putting the pair under arrest, when Mrs. McCausland, in a hurry, jumped between him and his antagonist, and he could not use his weapon, even for a club. The motorman, he claims, struck him on the right arm and broke it. His surgical medical treatment, and today was instructed by his commander, Captain Moore, to remove his arm for the arrest of the car men. The purse remains at the property clerk's office.

TO TAKE VOTE FROM STUDENTS

High School Principal Decides Officers Should be Appointed by Faculty.

According to a notice by F. S. Rossier, principal of the Fremont High school, elections are to be abolished. The principal has decided to have the officers of the student body appointed by the faculty of the high school. This has aroused the indignation of the students, who have threatened to have the matter carried before the Board of Education. If Rossier's plans are carried out, the choosing of the officers, the students explained to some of the students that had been dissatisfied with the fitness of some of the students chosen who had been voted in on account of their popularity rather than ability.

The students will carry the question before Superintendent of Schools W. J. McElmouds. If they are unable to obtain results they plan to appear before the Board of Education.

Many reforms in the Oakland High school system have found a close outcome in the Fremont High school.

Recently the ire of the students was aroused because the vice-principal issued an order that beauty patches, rouge, powder and similar aids to beauty must be eliminated in the classroom.

The senior class of the high school painted "13" in their class colors, red, all over the school last week, and aroused the anger of the faculty. Nothing has been done in the way of removing the later decorations of red paint, and the class is anxiously awaiting the action of the faculty, which is expected to be drastic.

Rossier's action is thought to be the result of the "ragging party" held on Self-Government Day, at the close of the last term when the students were given free control of the school. The classes were supposed to be heard by appointed pupils after the departure of the teachers, but it is said that a goodly number of the students passed the day in "ragtime" dances in the assembly hall. Henry George, the father of the self-government movement, was a visitor on that day. Several pupils were arrested, and the school as a result of the party.

Burke's sentence was commuted after the receipt of a petition from county officers of San Diego, who prosecuted Burke, and the former of the jury that convicted him, recommending the change. The evidence showed that the man was crazed with liquor at the time of the crime.

The Acting Governor has relieved Willie Luis, a Chinese, convicted of the murder of his stepmother, in San Luis Obispo county, for two weeks. Luis was to be hanged Friday.

Also the quickest cure in the world for ALLMENTS OF MEN AND WOMEN.

Cripples laid down; boundless gratitude of those who have been set free. Slavery of disease is abolished. Infirmities that have menaced humanity for ages yield to the Mayo treatments.

The world moves swiftly and the lotter is left behind. It requires a strong body and an active mind to keep the pace. We recognize these conditions and our sympathy is immediately enlisted for the crippled man or woman hobbling through life on canes or crutches and using the will power as a lash to drive the unwilling body.

Many of these men and women have sought relief from so many different sources and have been disappointed so many times that hope is dead within them and they have resigned themselves to the life of a hopeless cripple. On the other hand there are thousands who knew of Mayo, and, coming to him, have been healed of all infirmities. Their crutches were laid down, their stretchers abandoned and their wheel chairs left behind. One who has never felt the impulsion of a helpless body cannot appreciate the boundless joy and gratitude that fills the soul of the man or woman who has been set free from such bondage. Sufferers from nearly all forms of disease have borne testimony of their almost miraculous restoration to health by the wonderful Telecto Treatment.

WE MAKE NO FAILURES.

WE SELECT OUR CASES.

To prove to you that Chronic Diseases are our life study and that we know the human body to the minutest detail, we will undertake to diagnose any case in a few minutes, describing every ache and pain without asking the patient a single question. To aid in diagnosis we have wonderful instruments of our own invention, used by no other doctors.

If you have any chronic or long-standing trouble, call at Hamilton Auditorium and take advantage of this great offer to its aid.

Without exception every noteworthy advance in the realm of discovery or science has at first been greeted with scoffing and jeers. Columbus' theory of a great new continent over the seas met with such mockery and his idea of the telegraph excited nothing but ridicule. Fulton and his steamboat, Bell and his telephone were put down as harmless creatures not far removed from actual lunatics. Yet what would this be without the discovery of these men?

Laughter was the portion of Marconi when he claimed that it was a practical and possible thing to telegraph without wires from Nagasaki, Japan, to San Francisco, a distance of 7000 miles. Yet the genius of Marconi found in the great field of electricity a vital current that other great investigators had overlooked.

The idea of using this current for a far different purpose was immediately grasped by Marconi, namely, the curing of the manifold chronic ills of mankind, and glass Telecto-radio tubes were the result, this being the only current of which glass is a conductor.

The brilliancy and grasp of salient detail he put to work upon this new problem has made his name a synonym in the scientific world for all that is practical and far seeing.

These wonderful Telecto-radio tubes, by means of which the Telecto current, the like of no other, is passed into the human body, result eventually in the complete annihilation of all waste and diseased material.

Just as lightning purifies the air by the burning up of all foul matter, so do the Telecto forces act upon the human frame, the patient absolutely does know that his body is permeated with this vital fluid. He is conscious simply of a feeling of well being and vitality.

MAYO'S CURATIVE TELECTO.

Behold in this Treatment The Key to Good Health. A Blessing to all Mankind. More precious than Wealth. We will open a suite of magnificent offices next week at the Haystack building, 523 Twelfth street, where he can be consulted daily.

SPIRO TIES HANDS OF MAYOR ROLPH

Secures Writ of Prohibition and Will Not Have to Answer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Isaac Spiro, police commissioner appointed by the McCarthy administration and suspended by Mayor Rolph on Saturday, has tied the hands of the mayor and will not have to stand his trial before the official this afternoon. His counsel, Herbert Choyinski, obtained an alternative writ of prohibition from Superior Judge Sewell, which was made returnable at 1 o'clock Thursday morning. This restrains the mayor from acting further in the premises.

The complaint charges a political conspiracy on the part of the city's chief executive, alleges that the purpose of the charge against Commissioner Spiro was to remove him from office in order to find a place for the friend of the administration, and sets forth that Fred Churchill, the mayor's assistant secretary, had no personal knowledge of the facts but was merely a tool. It is declared further that the facts have been in the hands of the mayor for many months and yet no charges have been brought until this time.

Mayor Rolph was represented by Attorney Theodore Roosevelt, who will be argued at length on Thursday. The action of Fire Commissioner Donahue, who was also suspended, will depend upon the disposition of the Spiro case.

THOMAS STARR KING AND THE UNION

EDITOR TRIBUNE: It is doubtless a matter of no great public interest, but it permitted to me to state that an editorial writer in Monday's TRIBUNE, it is true that in my pulp it Sunday morning said that the world-famous California patriot preacher, Starr King, I did not, however, claim that King had been a traitor to the Union, but that his claim has been often made by credible writers of the Civil War period.

It is impossible to say whether King did, or did not, save California to the Union. Nor is any editorial writer, of the TRIBUNE or any other paper, entitled to determine whether this claim is the "embroidery of exaggeration," or sober truth.

It is often said that the North was saved by the statesmanship of Lincoln and the military genius of Grant. No man can prove, or disprove, this statement, because no man possibly know what would have occurred if neither of these great Americans had taken part in the war. It is not to give an accurate opinion as to what would have happened in California if any one of a half dozen men, who might be mentioned, had not played their mighty part.

All we know is that at the psychological moment when an actual division between the North and South existed among the people, and when hundreds throughout the State were indifferent to the fate of the Union because they were dreaming of a Pacific coast empire, independent of all other sections of the country—at that moment Starr King appeared. A master orator, his soul was aflame with patriotic ardor. With unequalled power he taught a nation-wide loyalty. The people were lifted into a new spirit of devotion to Union and liberty.

It was an absolutely necessary work. Whether any other man could or would have fulfilled King's noble mission and in so doing have rendered the same service to the nation is a question of no even academic interest. One thing is certain. It is not easy to exaggerate the high service, gladly acknowledged by all, of the late Starr King to the State and Nation.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM DAY SIMONDS.

ANNUAL DINNER HELD BY Y. M. C. A.

More Than 300 Members of Boys' Department Are Present.

The annual dinner of the Young Men's Christian Association was attended by more than 300 members of the boys' department last evening in the gymnasium. J. G. Hagerman, champion college athlete, formerly of Occidental College, who represented the southern portion of the state in the Olympic games of 1908, was the guest of honor. Hagerman won the prohibition oratorical contest of the same year. He addressed the meeting on the subject of athletics and its place in the life of a boy.

Rev. William Keeney Townner, pastor of the First Baptist church, acted as toastmaster, and received the following responses: Juniors, Edwin Leonard; Intermediates, Thomas Townner; business boys, Walter Dugham; high school, Alan Denison; physical director, Dr. W. R. Hume.

The boys' director, T. S. Caldwell, outlined the plans for the coming season. Many of the suggestions made at the boys' conference which marked the opening of the year's work last Monday. Clarence Maurer and L. Ray Ogden represented the Bible study classes.

Features of the evening were the presentation of the thirty-four eleven-page success in the international Bible study, in which Oakland held eighth place during the present year in competition with the associations of the United States and Canada.

Medals were also awarded to the 100-pound baseball team, which won the championship in the East Bay League, by C. F. Martin, physical director. The "Y. O." badges of the association were also awarded to the winning teams in the relay race of the morning.

The boys were seated according to their divisions, and each gave their yells. Homer Woolsey and James C. Bradbury furnished solos for the entertainment of the gathering.

SET DATE FOR POLICE DANCE

Annual Benefit Ball to Be Held at Piedmont Pavilion October 16.

The annual benefit ball in behalf of the Widows and Orphans Aid Association of the Oakland police department will be held this year in Piedmont pavilion Wednesday evening, October 16. Plans are being made to give the ball at the most brilliant yet held under the auspices of the local department. Mayor Frank K. Mott and the committee, with which the affair will be invited to attend, and the affair will adhere to the traditions which have been established in the Oakland police force.

Captain J. F. Lynch, who has been one of the most prominent workers for many years in behalf of the widows and orphans of the members of the police force, as chairman of the committee to have charge. Captain Lynch will announce the personnel of the various committees.

As usual, the ball will be an evening dress affair for the members of the department and city officials are concerned. It has been the aim in past years to make it a democratic celebration, however, and all will be invited to attend.

The ball is given each year to aid the widows and orphans of deceased members of the police force. The men of the force subscribe monthly dues to the association for the benefit of the police orphans, who live in the service of the city, but this has not proved sufficient to meet the needs and the annual ball is held to increase the fund.

COLONEL'S MEN TO BE OUSTED

Maryland State Convention to Reassemble to Name New Delegates.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10.—The Maryland Republican State Convention will reassemble here to depose three avowed Roosevelt supporters chosen last May as Presidential electors, who refused to resign, and to name successors to them and to the three other Roosevelt men who did resign when Taft was nominated. Col. Joshua R. Baldwin is one of the three who refused to get off the ticket.

Progressive leaders say supporters of the Colonel should not vote for him at the convention, because, they argue, it is illegal. They say vacancies among electors can be brought about only through death or resignation, in which event the vacancies may be filled only by the State central committee. Progressive leaders are to depose plans next Monday for the nomination of eight Roosevelt electors by petition.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

DIANAS BRING BIG GAME TROPHIES

Fair Hunters Tell Many Stirring Tales of Adventures In Antipodes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Relating a story of excitement and danger in the mountains and jungles of India and the bush of Australia in the quest for big game, two young women arrived from the Orient yesterday on the Japanese liner Nippon Maru.

Miss C. Virginia McDaniels, a pretty young English girl, who was met at the steamship pier by her mother, returned with the skins of several animals, including that of a huge tiger. The young woman proposes to make San Francisco her home.

Mrs. H. D. Van Brunt also brought back the skins of some of the animals she shot on an extended automobile journey through the wild bush country of Australia. Aemu and a kangaroo were among those that fell before her rifle.

Although the story related by Mrs. Van Brunt was exciting, it was surpassed by the tale of Miss McDaniels, who for the last year had been visiting her uncle, Major P. Anderson, at Peshawar, India.

Major Anderson is one of the veteran officers of His Majesty's service in the northern part of India.

Except for the advent of the automobile, which has shortened the distances of that wild country, Miss McDaniels found the abounding dangers of a place whose poisonous snakes take delight in becoming acquainted with or without pretext.

Major Anderson arranged several big game hunts. Leaving the compound the early part of May, Miss McDaniels went on her first tiger hunt. With the exception of the natives, the party was mounted on horses. When the first beast was run down it was the gun of the young woman that brought it down.

Two other tigers ended their careers before the party returned to Peshawar. A cobra bit one of the native servants, who died from the effects within a few hours.

Cardinal Balks

VENICE, Sept. 10.—Cardinal Cavallari, the Patriarch of Venice, who recently fulminated against what he termed as the "immodest female fashions," has threatened to expel from the church hobbie-skirted and peek-a-boo-ed women.

Sunday he interrupted the service at St. Mark's Cathedral and sent a prelate to warn a lady who was dressed audaciously and defiantly. These arguments did not convince the prelate and he insisted that the lady leave the church. However, she donned a shawl which was near her in the pew and this compromise permitted the resumption of the service.

Opera Star Dies

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Mrs. George E. Middleton, daughter of Mrs. Fernando Michelena, left this city on the Overland Limited Friday for New York. She was accompanied by her husband and will attend the funeral of her mother, which is to be held in New York today.

The deceased was the wife of Fernando Michelena, a former grand opera star and now one of San Francisco's vocal teachers. Before her marriage Mrs. Michelena was a great favorite in comic opera and noted throughout the East for the beauty of her voice and person. Later she settled in San Francisco, living here for fifteen years. After the great fire of 1906 she removed to New York, where she was accompanied by her husband and her daughter, Vera Michelena. She was contemplating a return to this city when overtaken by her last illness.

Nip Elopements

PORTLAND, Sept. 10.—On the eve of eloping to San Francisco with Clarence Michael, the 19-year-old son of C. W. Michael, president of the Home Land Company, Florence Shepherd Carmichael, the runaway daughter of a Tonopah mining man, was arrested by two plain clothes officers at the Oaks Amusement park. With her were taken young Michael and John Madden, son of Thomas G. Madden, a surgeon living in Montavilla, and Vera Rosengren, 19, a model, who had already bought tickets for San Francisco.

Mrs. Carmichael ran away from her home in Tonopah a short time ago, according to a story she told the police, and was married in Portland to R. H. Carmichael, who left her the next day. She later became acquainted with Michael.

'Sweet Sixty-eight'

PARIS, Sept. 10.—Sarah Bernhardt has returned to Paris from her country place at Belle Isle and will go to London at the end of the week. She asserts that she recognizes most gratefully London's unwavering appreciation of her art, but makes the important correction that this year will not see her sixty-ninth birthday, but her sixty-eighth. She added: "It does not make much difference, but at my age one cannot allow one's self to be made more old."

Fortune Awaits

Mrs. H. D. Van Brunt, who has just returned from Australia, is expected to win a large fortune, which she wishes to leave part of her fortune, has caused Miss Minnie Hallowell of 1010 Alameda street, New London, to be called to the attention of friends in London in the hope of finding her relative.

Miss Hallowell had been known her desire to Mrs. Dorey Richardson of 718 Washington avenue, Brooklyn, whom she knew when the latter lived in Piedmont. When Miss Hallowell last heard of her brother, in 1892, he was in San Francisco. The missing man is said to be 37 years of age and of decidedly Irish accent and

WOMAN'S CURIOSITY

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1912, by Lillian Russell)

TO what outlandish freaks of idiosyncrasy lead women? There are ways and delicate ways to relieve curiosity. There is a rudeness connected with curiosity which makes a fine looking woman appear as unlovely as a ferret. Perhaps one of the best tests of the refinement of women is when they are confronted by a celebrity. Some women lose all sense of modesty at once. They follow that celebrity around. If she be celebrated for beauty they do everything which good breeding forbids. Their natures are laid bare, as though all matters were removed and the real spirit stood revealed in all its naked indecency.

Some women are so consumed with jealousy that they pass insulting remarks almost in the face of the unfortunate possessor of a reputation for beauty.

Such remarks as "I wonder if she wears a wig?" and "They say her face is enameled," "I wonder if she smells of her perfumed baths?" or "They say she has a false neck."

Any of these remarks is a proof positive that the speaker is brainless. If ten minutes were occupied in sensible contemplation of the real meaning of any one of the above remarks any one with a grain of gray matter would realize the nonsense of it all. Therefore, women or men who are so weak as to allow such remarks to pass their lips as a slander to any woman are worthless, irresponsible, brainless creatures.

There are women who admire celebrities and who can look at them with a glance which means no insult—in fact, the gaze is so fleeting that, although it takes in all she wants to see, there is no sense of stare in it. Therefore, it is more of a compliment than an insult.

There is even refinement in curiosity and all refinement is beautiful. I have seen a so-called lady deliberately walk up to a celebrated actress and run her fingers through her hair to find out if she wore a wig. I have seen a girl deliberately accost an actress and ask: "Do you enamel your face? Mamma says you do." What a confession of "mamma's ignorance!" She has taught her daughter to be not only rude, but vulgar. There is no such process as facial enamel. At least, in my wide observation I have never seen an enameled face, nor have I found anyone who actually knew of any such process. Where people get such ideas I cannot fathom. What prompts the insulting action of accusing anyone of such a practice is a vicious jealousy and a consuming envy. These will reflect discomfort and disease. Remember, when inclined to listen to slander just for one moment put yourself in the place of the person slandered and think.

Answers to Queries

HELEN.—Bad skin does not exist where there is good circulation.

This fact is so well understood by masseuses that they often overdo the massage. Ignoring the construction of the skin and its underlying tissues, and the fact that no two people have exactly the same sort of skin, they often bring about the desired circulation at the expense of dispersing that fatty tissue which lies beneath and supports all skins. The destruction of which occasions sagging muscles and wrinkles.

SUMMER GIRL.—Sunburn and evening dress are not a happy combination. Often the girl who must face strangers after a day in the sun is misjudged sadly, so coarsening is intense redness of face.

Since seclusion is impossible the next thing is to tone down the color by dress and art. Much can be done by bathing the face with soothing lotions. Rub a raw cucumber over the face when lying down before dressing for dinner. Rinse off with tepid water and give a light dust of powder.

Do not coat your face with powder under the impression that no one sees it. It does not help the redness enough to make up for the ordinary look it gives to the powder.

blue, yellow or lavender frock will make you look redder than ever, while a scarlet one makes one long to put in a fire alarm.

A pink dress, though it gives color to a pale face, has the power of lessening the painful hues of a burnt face. White does not heighten the flaming hues, but the best choice is a low necked black frock; not low enough to show a line between burnt skin and the sun-shielded portions.

Z. L.—After the too brown or yellow hands have been given a thorough scrubbing at bedtime and dried with a soft ball of absorbent cotton anoint them liberally with some good emollient, draw on an exceedingly loose pair of gloves, perforated in many places with tiny holes, and run off to bed, knowing that when you awake the cooling tints will be making their preparations for a near departure.

To make a French glove paste take the yolk of one egg and beat it with a fork until it is light and frothy, then add in it one teaspoonful of glycerine and one ounce of honey. Enough rice flour should now be sifted into this mixture to make a spreadable paste.

This homely cream is easily put together, so should be a favorite with milliners in haste. Do not overlook the fact that hands, in order to be nice to look upon, should be treated to frequent baths. The more the hands are rubbed and scrubbed with hot, lathered water and a nail brush, the softer, whiter and more expressive they will be. If you doubt my words, inaugurate a series of thorough hand washings and see if I do not prove a good prophet.

It is a dainty idea, after these little baths, to dip the hands in a little perfumed water.

ADMISSION DAY IS CELEBRATED ON PLAYGROUNDS

Several hundred children celebrated Admission Day at De Fremery park in games, races and folk dancing. Every body played and played hard and night found a great crowd of tired but happy boys and girls. The game that attracted the most attention from the spectators was a contest between the girl's senior baseball team and the boy's midweek team. It was a game full of exciting moments.

Billie Lancel showed that she is a first class pitcher by striking out 10 batters. Roberts did good work for his team in the box. The game ended 8 to 7 in favor of the Mideals.

The teams lined up as follows: Mideals—Roberts p., Pickett c., Larson 1b., R. Pickett ss., Rutland 2b., Crowley 3b., Schneider rf., Steele lf., Kenney cf., Greider team—Ellis Lancel p., May Halsey c., Ames McGrath 2b., Ruth Kork cf., Carrie Schwartz 3b., Lulu Bertola rf., Carole Carter lf., Helen Lancel 1b., May Rolly ss.

ONE-SIDED GAME. The game on the boys' side between the Tompkins and De Fremery Juniors was a one-sided exhibition and all in favor of the visiting team. Lucky Frankie and Magnoli were the heavy run-getters for their team. The De Fremerys were beaten by a score of 5 to 2.

Following is the lineup of the victors: Pincatori c., Luckey rf., George p., R. Pickett ss., Rutland 2b., Cerrell ss., Arlie cf., Marlie 2b., Magnoli lf.

The afternoon's sport was opened by a basketball game between the Tompkins and De Fremery Juniors. Considerable intense heat both teams played a remarkable game. Here again the Tompkins boys demonstrated their superior playing ability by scoring six points to their opponents' two. It was fast game from start to finish. The score stood 8 to 2 at the end of the first half.

Tompkins—Frank Arena c., Magnoli lf., Pincatori rf., Marti 2b., Ross p., De Fremery—Flicks cf., Reed cf., Starr c., Rozzafava lf., Vischori lf.

GAME HAS TURNING POINT. While this was taking place the Mideals of the Sacred Heart and the De Fremery Mideals were trying conclusions on the baseball diamond. It looked for a time as if the visiting team was going to swamp the home team. But this did not last long. When the De Fremery Mideals were down to one runner, the home team scored two runs.

Roberts, Flicks and Larson were the heavy hitters for the home team. Crowley, Holtz and Domick played good ball in their positions. Cronin, Dolan and Martin played fine ball for the visitors.

Following is the lineup for the two teams: De Fremery—Flicks c., Crowley 1b., R. Pickett ss., Rutland 2b., Crowley 3b., Schneider rf., Steele lf., Kenney cf., Greider team—Ellis Lancel p., May Halsey c., Ames McGrath 2b., Ruth Kork cf., Carrie Schwartz 3b., Lulu Bertola rf., Carole Carter lf., Helen Lancel 1b., May Rolly ss.

At Bayview the West Oakland Merchants defeated the East Oakland Merchants by a score of 10 to 2.

OAKLAND YOUTH BAGS BEAR

SEAEVER HAMILTON, 17-YEAR-OLD OAKLAND YOUTH, WHO MET AND CONQUERED A BEAR.

Seventeen-year-old Seaver Hamilton of 526 Thirty-fourth street, was the most successful young hunter at Lake Tahoe this season, bagging three bears. It is a pupil of the Oakland High school, and a seeker after big game. He is the youngest member of the River Island Gun club, and gets the limit as often as the elders.

Hamilton came early one morning and started out into the mountains in search of deer, but coming upon the bear suddenly, brought the animal down with one shot from a high power 22 Savage rifle.

The bear weighed about 200 pounds. It is a pupil of the Oakland High school, and a seeker after big game. He is the youngest member of the River Island Gun club, and gets the limit as often as the elders.

Rivals Her Daughter in Youthful Beauty

(From Social Register.)

A well-known society matron whose youthful beauty is so well preserved that she is regarded as her daughter's rival in this respect—though she does not pose as such—attributes her girlish complexion chiefly to two things. She says:

"I am constantly at pains, by over-lathering the skin and pores, tend to accustom the complexion. Mercifully has just the opposite effect. It keeps the pores clean, permitting them to breathe, and removes dead particles of cuticle which are constantly appearing and which give the complexion that faded look. When over my skin begins to get the least bit off-color, I go to my drugstore for an ounce of merciful cream. I apply this nightly. It does not cream, for a week or so, washing it off mornings. This is what keeps my complexion so fresh, white and velvet."

"The absence of wrinkles and blemishes I owe to the use of a simple face bath prepared by dissolving one ounce of powdered sassafras in a half pint witch hazel. This keeps the skin 'tight' and firm."

U. S. OFFICIAL IS CHARGED WITH ABDUCTION

FOUND WITH GIRL IN HOTEL

$1000 Bail Forfeited and Police Ordered to Rearrest H. E. Nolan.

Secretary to Panama Legation Faces Felony Charge in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Harry E. Nolan, of Washington, D. C., recently appointed secretary to the United States legation at Panama, failed to appear in police court today to plead to a charge of abducting 16-year-old Marian McVicker of Newport News, Va. His cash bail of $1000 was ordered forfeited and two detectives were sent to arrest him.

After declaring the $1000 bail forfeited, the court fixed bail at $2500 for Nolan when arrested and paroled the McVicker girl in the custody of the Florence Crittenden Mission. The arraignment was then postponed until September 17.

FOUND IN HOTEL.

Nolan was arrested last night on complaint of agents of the Old Dominion Steamship Company that the McVicker girl, whose father was reported to be a prosperous innkeeper at Glasgow, Scotland, had disappeared from the steamer Jefferson shortly after its arrival here Friday. The McVicker girl had been entrusted by her brother to the care of a stewardess on the vessel with instructions to remain aboard until Thursday, when she was to be sailed for Scotland on a ticket purchased by her father Nolan and the girl were found at a fashionable Broadway hotel where they had registered as H. E. Nolan and wife. The girl broke down and told the detectives that she had met Nolan aboard the vessel and at his suggestion that she get a position in New York had changed her mind about going back to Scotland and gone with him. Nolan had nothing to say.

In the Tombs court today Summer Gerard, who furnished the cash bail last night, appeared for Nolan and asked for a postponement of the arraignment for two weeks and a continuation of the $1000 bail. The court allowed a postponement of one week, but before fixing the amount of bail ordered the assistant district attorney to prepare a formal complaint. While the complaint was being drafted Gerard and Nolan, who had been waiting in the corridor outside, left the building.

BAIL ORDERED FORFEITED.

Ten minutes later the complaint was ready and a search for Nolan and Gerard made. Not finding either at the court, the court ordered the cash bail forfeited and fixed the amount of the bond for Nolan's appearance on September 17, at $2500.

An hour later Detectives told Magistrate Murphy that they had found Nolan in Gerard's office and that Gerard said that the case had been put over a week and the same bail continued.

"Get out and arrest Nolan on sight," ordered the magistrate. During the proceedings the McVicker girl wept copiously. She told the probation officer she had repented and wanted to go back home. She said that she had married secretly in Newport News last August James Foster, a watchman at a Newport News garage, and had also repented that.

FAILED TO REPORT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Harry E. Nolan, the young diplomat arrested in New York, charged with abduction, was confirmed by the Senate as secretary of legation at Panama on August 22. Nolan was ordered to report for instructions. He did not do so, however, and has not communicated with the state department. The government will take no action until the courts pass upon the case.

TWO MOTORCYCLISTS RUN DOWN AND KILLED

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Two men riding on a single motorcycle were killed in a collision early today between their machine and a truck at a downtown corner of Avenue A. The dead men cannot be identified. Both received fractured skulls. The police asserted that the truck driver was in no way to blame for the accident, as the cyclists were speeding recklessly.

FORENOON TRIBUNE-ORPHEUM MATINEE ATTRACTING TREMENDOUS INTEREST

SYDNEY AYRES, WHO WILL SPEAK UPON THE STAGE AND ITS PROBLEMS THURSDAY MORNING AT THE ORPHEUM.

Public Interview Is Arranged for Matinee Idol

Sydney Ayres to Lecture Upon Stage World and How to Make Success There

Have you made up your mind to be among those present?

Why, at the forenoon matinee at the Oakland Orpheum Thursday morning, when Sydney Ayres will lecture upon the auspices of THE TRIBUNE.

Hundreds and hundreds of lads and lassies, mothers and fathers, and even the grandparents, have signified their intention of being there.

The lecture is to be absolutely free, not even an admission card being required. The doors will be open to you at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning, and Mr. Ayres will commence his chat with you all promptly at 11 o'clock.

It is going to be a mighty interesting event in theatrical circles, for you are all going to be placed in the same position as a dramatic critic who is sent to interview one of the big stars of the stage.

Principally Mr. Ayres intends to tell you in simple language how to gratify an ambition to become an actor or actress, and how to succeed after you are about the stage. THE TRIBUNE has asked Mr. Ayres to do this, because they believe that he is well qualified to speak upon such a subject, being a matinee idol and a successful actor and playwright.

When Mr. Ayres has concluded his informal lecture, he will read answers to questions that have been submitted to him in letters. He isn't going to try and answer all the letters he has received because there were over 2000 mash notes that came to him while he was enacting heroic roles, but he will endeavor to give candid answers to such questions as apply to the problems of the stage.

So remember that the day and hour—Thursday at 11 o'clock, and that THE TRIBUNE urges you to go early and obtain a good seat.

If you ever had an inkling that you would like to know something more about the stage world, if you are a people, or if you ever yearned to pierce the veil that shrouds the mysterious land of the footlights, come to the Orpheum Thursday morning at 11. Prominent questions and they will be answered.

POOLSSELLERS HAVE TO FACE FELONY CHARGE

Police and Sheriff Make a Raid on the Gamblers in Emeryville

Striking suddenly and without warning, a combined posse of officers from the Oakland police department and sheriff's office invaded Emeryville yesterday afternoon, raided pool selling places and effected seventeen arrests. The raid had been carefully planned and according to District Attorney W. H. Donahue and Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen, was a blow at the source of race track betting in this county.

Of the seventeen arrested by the Oakland and Alameda county officers fourteen were released after being brought to the Oakland city prison and questioned. They were well known business men of Emeryville for the most part, but were only visitors at the alleged pool selling place, and were allowed to go. E. C. Hoffman, Fred Hubbard and F. W. Ellis, were detained at the Oakland city prison last night and this morning Under Sheriff J. J. Hannigan, Deputy Sheriff Bert Brown and Inspector Hodgkins swore to complaints before Prosecuting Attorney W. J. Hennessey charging the three with feloniously violating the Walker-Young anti-gambling law. The three will be arraigned before Judge Mortimer Smith tomorrow morning.

The raid yesterday was the outcome of a lengthy conference held last Saturday between Chief of Police W. H. Donahue and Assistant District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes, Sheriff Frank Barnett and other county officers.

Crippled Pleiades Under Own Power

Big Freighter on Way North; Wireless Reports All Are Well.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 10.—After being on the beach of Cape San Lazaro, Lower California, since August 15, the big freighter Pleiades floated today under its own power and without a tow. It is expected to stop at San Diego for water and fuel and then proceed to San Francisco for repairs. The freighter left Grays Harbor August 8 for Balboa, Panama. Captain Armstrong of the Pleiades reports by wireless all well.

Diver Goes Down 96 Feet; New Record

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 10.—Chief Boatman's Mate, Charles Zupke is the holder of a new diving record for the navy. He went down 96 feet in the water off Newport during a cruise just ended here in search of a torpedo lost by the destroyer Panicle. The price of the water was $1000. A death after a swim of 10 minutes he was unconscious for a considerable time after coming to the surface.

LARGER WATER COURSES FAVORED

Woodrow Wilson Declares Himself in Favor of Schemes.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Sept. 10.—A letter received from Woodrow Wilson commending the work of the Upper Mississippi Valley Improvement Association was the feature of the eleventh convention of the association here today. The letter in part follows:

"It would give me pleasure to be present and to express my entire sympathy with projects that look toward the opening up and the sympathetic connection of our great river system and their preparation for navigation on a great scale.

"It has undoubtedly become necessary that we should reconsider our whole transportation problem in view of the developments which are sure to follow immediately upon the opening of the Panama canal. We have become aware in recent years that our transportation facilities were not equal to the great demands made upon them by the enormous movement of trade within the country. Our trade must have open ways. Our water courses must be linked and, where necessary, deepened. We must broaden and multiply the channels of our commerce."

The rooms are at the rear of a saloon owned by E. Labitbrath, under the name of H. M. Brock & Co. They were equipped with all the necessary chairs and other paraphernalia such as telephone and telegraphic service incident to the conduct of a pool selling place.

It is alleged that this was the headquarters of the race track gamblers of the county, so far as race track information was concerned, and that all the smaller pool rooms and cigar stands and saloons where bets have been accepted from time to time in Oakland received their information on the Vancouver and Salt Lake City horse races.

JOHN A. BRITTON WILL GIVE LECTURE TO TELL OF THE ELECTRICAL INDUSTRY

JOHN A. BRITTON, VICE-PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER OF THE PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY.

Interesting Address at Macdonough Theater to Be Open to the Public

John A. Britton, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, will give a lecture tomorrow evening at the Macdonough Theater for the benefit of employees of the company and the general public who are interested. General development of electric and gas industries of the Pacific coast will be the subject of the evening, accompanied by illustrations.

Pictures of proposed developments of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company system on this coast will be exhibited. Few people realize the extent to which electricity is being used in various lines of industry in California. Mr. Britton is, perhaps, on this subject one of the best posted men in America. His lecture will be of great interest not only to the housekeeper, who may use gas as a fuel, but to the merchant, the manufacturer, the electrician, and the general public. The public is invited to attend the lecture.

Plucky Woman Saves Airmen From Death

Grasps Trail-Rope and Succeeds in Stopping Big Dirigible.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Horace B. Wild and John de Courcy, his engineer, started out last night from Woodlawn in a 125-foot dirigible balloon. They were sailing toward the downtown district, when a water plug blew out and they found themselves in serious trouble several hundred feet in the air.

The crisis was heard by Mrs. Walter M. Smith, who was on the roof of a shed in the rear of her home. She saw the craft was settling and also caught a glimpse of a long trail-rope hanging from the balloon and dragging against buildings as the rope dangled near her. She seized it and held on with all her 135 pounds of strength.

She was dragged from the roof and against a fence, but she succeeded in stopping it. The craft settled down among some telegraph wires, with no further damage than a broken rudder.

Scientific Safe Driller To Seek New Fields

New Kind of Steel Discovered That Cannot Be Cut or Exploded.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The day of the scientific safe burglar is about over. A kind of steel that cannot be drilled, exploded or cut by the oxyhydrogen flame, has been discovered by German chemists, according to Professor Carl Duisenberg, one of the chief foreign office delegates to the International Chemists' Congress here, and it is a question of only a short time before the vagabond will have to turn to new fields.

Dr. Duisenberg brought with him two specimens of steel. One was of the ordinary kind and had been cut in five and a half minutes by the oxyhydrogen flame and in six minutes by the acetylene flame. The second specimen was of the new alloy which had withstood the test of both the oxyhydrogen and acetylene flames for one and a half hours.

VETERANS SEE SOLDIERS' HOME

Delegates to G. A. R. Encampment Pay Visit to Sawtelle.

W. R. Thomas Among Those to Speak at Official Opening.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—Today was Soldiers' Home Day for the delegates and visitors to the Forty-sixth Annual Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. The principal events were an all-day excursion to the National Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle, and an open house at Venice. This evening, the semi-official opening of the encampment will occur at Shrine Auditorium. Other events of the day were the annual meeting of the army nurses and their memorial services, the convention of the ex-prisoners of war, followed by a camp-fire, a reception to the G. A. R. and allied organizations, tendered by the Sons of Veterans, the annual meetings of the Daughters of Veterans, the annual meeting of the council of the Women's Relief Corps, and reunions of the Mississippi ram fleet and marines of the "Iron Brigade."

TO WELCOME VETERANS.

At the semi-official opening of the encampment this evening, Commander-in-Chief Trimble will deliver his address. Lieutenant Governor A. J. Black, Mayor Alexander will speak on behalf of Los Angeles. Others on the program are: W. R. Thomas, Commander of the Department of California and Nevada; Past Commanders Louis R. Wagner, James Tanner, General John D. Black, Geo. Ranssieur and S. R. Van Sant; Mrs. Catherine Ross, National President of the Ladies of the G. A. R.; Philippine M. Shoeman, National President of the Daughters of Veterans, and Cora M. Davis, National President of the Women's Relief Corps.

INTEREST IN ELECTION.

Interest in the selection of the next commander-in-chief was revived today, when it became known that the New York delegation had voted 38 to 3 not to support the candidacy of Gen. Daniel E. St. John, of New York. The delegates of Bridgeport, Conn., were in high claim, claiming that practically no opposition now existed to the selection of their candidate.

As yet Denver is the only city actively in the field for next year's encampment.

Teachers Must Give Promise Not to Wed

Agreement is Binding Only During School Year of Nine Months.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 10.—Before successful applicants for positions in Hazleton township schools are permitted to start work they must submit in writing a promise that they will not fall victims to cupid's darts during the nine months' school year. Some of the teachers who refused to furnish the written promise, have been informed that their services will not be required. It is understood that the new rule has delayed a few mid-winter weddings. The school board made the demand to prevent a scarcity of teachers after the term was under way.

PURSE STOLEN ON SHIP.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Edward Bray, purser on the steamer Northland, notified the Harbor police today of the theft of $56 from Mrs. J. Stafford, a passenger en route to Washington. D. C. Mrs. Stafford, her husband and family boarded the boat at Los Angeles and the woman hung her satchel in the stateroom. When she arrived here she found that her purse had been taken.

Hogan the Fighter and Hogan the Manager Are Rudely Treated by Oaklanders

WHOOOP IT UP, FELLOWS; WE'RE AFTER THAT FLAG

Oaks Annihilate Hooligans in the Double-Header and Pennant Prospects Are Bright and Rosy

Here's the other tale about the downfall of Hogan, but this time it is Happpius, he of Vernon, that we shall write about. A week or so ago he strutted around the hotel corridor telling all those that would listen as to how he was going to trim Honus Mitze and his bunch. Well, he did trim Honus and his bunch on two occasions, but Honus and his bunch trimmed Happpius on five, so it sort of overbalances, does it not? It does.

With the closing of the afternoon ball game at Recreation Park it marked the seventeenth game that Oakland had played in a row and thirteen of them had a W after Oakland's name, while on four occasions it was L.

Seven times out of nine Oakland beat San Francisco. In a play-off game with the Senators the Oaks won and in the Hooligan series they won five and lost two. Figure it up yourself.

Yesterday morning a great big crowd of fans and fannettes took in the ball game at Recreation Park and when they saw the score board reading Oakland 6 and Vernon 4 after nine innings of nerve racking ball it was no wonder that some of the ladies just gave a sweet little scream or some of the men patted a stranger on the back. I should say not.

It was the first appearance of Henry Olmstead on the one town lot for many a day and Henry did very nicely thank you. He had a pretty good assortment of shots and slants and he used his noodle, and it was his timely hit with two in the hole that started the Oaks on the way with the winning run.

Bill Leard was a hero of the game too, as was our old college chum, Gus Miller, but right now you have got to doff the old sky piece to one Pat Patterson. That ball player played ball all the time and it was his hit that sent the winning run to the rubber and it was his daring steal home that gave us 'uns another.

ABLES IS SOME PUMPKIN.

Over the brink Happpius Hogan was desperate and called on Sir John Raleigh to crush the Oaks. Happpius couldn't do it. 'Uns called on Harry Ales to crush the Hooligans and Harry did it. Oh, yes, the boys stood behind him manfully but hand it to Harry for the way he handled that pill.

It was all over in the first round for Oakland scored two here, while all through the game the Hooligans could only gather one. Here's the hit looks in figures:

WRIGHT AND BRUNNER TO MEET IN CUE MATCH TONIGHT

Tonight is the big night at Wright's billiard palace on Thirteenth street near Broadway. Wright and Brunner cross their cues on the first lap of a three night's match for a purse. Both players have been training faithfully for the event and both are playing at top speed.

Brunner has pulled off several phenomenal averages during the past three days and on form looks to have better than an even chance at it.

Wright, however, is not beaten before he starts by means as attested to by the work of yesterday in practice. In five times at the table he goes to a total in the neighborhood of 300 points. That is world's championship billiard work. Wright is not too far fetched to say that those who see Wright in action tonight are witnessing the work of the world's future champion at the billiard table.

Not any distant future, either. Brunner is a player who will have to be seriously reckoned with during the next couple of years. His work is rapidly taking on that appearance of class that stamps him as a performer of the first water.

With Wright and Brunner in the field Oakland at present is claiming the cue championship in two classes. Wright is undefeated in class B. The match will be open to the public and admission will be free. The game starts at 8 p. m. tonight.

BOWELS SLUGGISH, STOMACH SOUR GASSY, UPSET? CASCARETS GREAT!

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, distress and sick headache, means your stomach is full of sour bile—your liver is torpid—your bowels constipated. It isn't your stomach's fault—it isn't indigestion—it's biliousness and constipation. Try Cascarets; they immediately sweeten the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning.

10 Cents. Never griped or sick.

"CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP."

SERVIAN CABINET RESIGNS IN BODY

BELGRADE, Sept. 10.—The Servian cabinet has resigned, ostensibly because of the ill health of the premier, Dr. Milovanovich. The real reason is believed to be the serious Balkan situation.

Recently the anger of Servians has been aroused against Turkey, because of the Turkish massacres along the southern frontier of Servia. Many have demanded that war be declared against Turkey.

MOTORCYCLE VICTIM DIES.
NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 10.—The death list resulting from the accident at the motorcade when Eddie Hasha crashed into the grandstand on his machine, was increased to seven today by the death of William Barnett of this city. Three other victims are not expected to survive.

FUGITIVE SHOT BY POLICEMAN

Bystander Is Wounded In Leg While Culprit Is Fatally Injured.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Robert Dix, a young East Side politician, is dying in the Harlem hospital from the effects of a bullet fired by Patrolman Croson late last night. Dix had been arrested on complaint of a mulatto girl, whose face he had slapped. Policemen and prisoner were on their way to the station, when Dix broke free and ran. He seemed likely to escape in the thickening crowd and Croson drew his revolver and fired three shots. The first dropped an innocent bystander with a bullet in his leg. The second shot went wild. The third brought the real fugitive to earth with a wound in his breast. Croson is known on the force as "Diamond Dick." He has been devoted much of his attention recently to an extended search for "Cory the Doctor."

The feature of the game was the base stealing of Jack Naylor and Jimmie Kellier, and the hard hitting of G. O. Montour. Colonel Burghin and Babu umpired to the satisfaction of the winning team. Dr. Morton was called on the field on two different occasions to aid the injured. South Park, Harrington managed the married men and Theodore Jacobs the unmarried.

The undertaker holds the head as security for expenses.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN FOUND LIFELESS

Murder Suspected at First; Inquiry Disperses Belief of Authorities.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Lying in a vacant lot, his feet in the air and his head against a stone, an unidentified man, apparently a waiter, was found dead at Third and Minna streets, at 6 o'clock this morning. Charles Sternal, who discovered the man's body believed that he had been murdered and police headquarters were notified.

Detective Dierman hurried to the place and an examination was made by him and by Deputy Coroner Gavin. The evidence, however, pointed to the man's having succumbed to natural causes, and it is thought he reeled and fell into the lot, which is a little below the street, while he was walking along the sidewalk. He was about 50 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall, grey hair, slim build, and weighed about 125 pounds.

MONGOLIA TORN BY REVOLUTION

One City Has Fallen and Another Is Reported In Great Danger.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—A serious situation exists in Mongolia according to a Peking dispatch to the Daily Mail. Kobdo, in Western Mongolia, has fallen and Altai is in great danger at the hands of revolutionists.

The cabinet at a secret meeting has discussed the advisability of asking Russia to mediate between China and the Mongolians, who are said to be prepared to fight China to a finish if an attempt is made to establish Chinese rule in Mongolia.

Reports from Peking to the Times say the Governor of Hui in the province of Sinkiang, which borders on Mongolia, has been warned by the Russian consul that if Chinese troops are dispatched to Kobdo to suppress the Mongolian rising Russian assistance will be given the Mongolians.

WHITMAN 'HANGS' CROCKER PRIZE DOGS

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—When Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm D. Whitman, the only bridge couple on record who ever carried $50,000 worth of prize dogs with them on a honeymoon journey, arrived yesterday from San Francisco, the dogs were missing.

The fifty animals, attended by three valets in a special car, reached Chicago safely, but somewhere between that city and New York the little dears were lost or sidetracked.

Whitman, of the Plaza yesterday, did not seem to be in utter despair. It had been reported that when the animals car was delayed en route to Chicago from the coast, he exclaimed: "If any of the 'conquered beasts' or words to that effect."

In the Second Congressional district, Representative Stanton Warburton went over to the Progressive party and yielded the field to Albert Johnson of Houma.

Two women are Republican candidates for public land commissioner. Mrs. Tamblin's name appears on the ballot as "M. H. Tamblin." She is distressed that the name was not printed Miss H. GEN. LEONARD WOOD TO INSPECT POST

Chief of Staff's Visit Is Looked Forward to by Presidio.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States army, will be in San Francisco the latter part of this month on an official inspection tour of army fortifications. He will remain here probably for three days, most of which time will be spent at the Presidio. Word of his contemplated trip to the Pacific coast was yesterday received by Colonel Cornelius Gardener, commandant at the Presidio.

General Wood is the ranking officer of the army and when he comes here to officially inspect the Western division every military courtesy will be extended him, not only at the Presidio, but at all the posts around the bay.

The visit of the chief of staff has peculiar significance at this time, following so closely on the heels of the visit of the Secretary of War, Henry L. Stimson.

Secretary Stimson has recommended to Congress that the sum of $1,600,000 be appropriated for improvements at the Presidio, and it is expected that after General Wood visits the big local fort he will give his official endorsement to such appropriation. A part of the time that he will spend here will be in the inspection of the new buildings at Fort Winfield Scott, now used as an artillery post, and upon which hundreds of thousands of dollars have been expended recently.

She Had Consumption, Was Dying; Now Well

Eckman's Alternative is being used with success in the treatment of tuberculosis in all parts of the country. Persons who have taken it improved, gained weight, exhausted night sweats stopped, fever diminished, and many more. If you are interested to know more about it, we will put you in touch with some who are now well. Read of Mrs. Gove's recovery.

Griffith, Ind. (Mrs. Anna Gove) was taken sick with Catarrh Pneumonia, and continually grew worse, requiring a trained nurse. The nurse informed me that she had tuberculosis and nothing could be done for her. The Rev. Wm. Berg, of St. Michael's Church, at Shererville, Ind., who prepared for her death, recommended that I get some Eckman's Alternative and see if it would not give her some relief. The physician told me that she had consumption and was beyond all medical aid. So I immediately sent for a bottle. Practically without hope for recovery, I insisted that she try the Alternative, which she did. I am glad to say that she soon began to improve. Now she frankly says she owes her life and health to Eckman's Alternative.

(Signed Affidavit) J. OS. GRIMMER, Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in unyielding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Co., and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

What Is the Worth of a Piano Guarantee?

Practically every Piano sold, no matter by whom made or of what quality, bears some sort of a guarantee, verbal or written. Usually, the cheaper the piano, the more emphatic is the salesman in its praise, the more forceful his explanation of its quality and of the "guarantee" under which it is sold.

Makers of the cheapest Pianos, manufacturers whose workmanship, materials and finished product will not stand the closest scrutiny or the test of years of service, seek to hide their deficiencies behind "guarantees" which cover every possible contingency but which, when closely analyzed, are as worthless and unstable as is the product which they cover. The best recommendation for the

the best guarantee of its quality and usefulness lies in the fact that, through the great number in use in California and the west, through the many years of steady, honest service given, it has become known as the best, medium-priced, the most durable and lasting Piano ever offered on the Pacific Coast. There is hardly a village or hamlet in the west that has not its Ludwig Piano, and that Ludwig is the center of admiration of the entire neighborhood.

The Ludwig is a dependable Piano. Dependable because its makers are conscientious, earnest and honest. It is a dependable Piano because every part of wood, wire, iron, steel, brass and felt, as well as the workmanship which enters into its construction is of the very highest quality. It is a dependable Piano because it is GUARANTEED WITH A REAL GUARANTEE—one that makes good and insures its quality as a never failing musical asset.

For nearly twenty years we have been selling Ludwig Pianos because we believe them, at or near their price, to be unsurpassed, and surely WE KNOW THEM WELL. Ludwig Pianos may be purchased on easy payments if desired.
